By ERNEST B. VACCARO

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's improvement kept pace today with advance calculations of his physicians as he turned to one of his favorite hobbies—painting—an another step toward recovery.

He divided part of a day of relaxation between viewing the majestic Rockies from the sundeck outside his hospital room and painting another view of the same mountains from a colored print taken from a magazine.

"The president had a good night's sleep of more than eight hours," a 7 a.m. medical bulletin said. "He awoke feeling refreshed and cheerful. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The fact that it has been nearly four weeks since he was stricken with a heart attack Sept. 24, and there have been no complications, encouraged speculation that a date soon will be set for his flight back East to begin a period of convalescence.

25-Minute Conference

The painting started yesterday, not long after the 65-year-old President concluded a 25-minute foreign policy review with Secretary of State Dulles, and just before he conferred on other government affairs with his chief deputy Sherman Adams.

Adams leaves today for Washington to attend tomorrow's meeting of the Cabinet. And the President won't have another conference until tomorrow when Atty. Gen. Brownell arrives by plane to talk over Justice Department problems.

This is part of the pattern this week of keeping the President abreast of developments by Cabinet-level conferences a day apart.

How much his schedule can be stepped up next week will be determined over the weekend when Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist, arrives by plane with Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart expert of the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D.C. They will hold consultations with bedside doctors.

Florida Rumor

Meanwhile, reports continued to circulate as to where the President would go to convalesce. Secretary Hagerty, told of one report Eisenhower was considering going to Florida, said there had been no final decision. All he had to go on, Hagerty said, was the assertion of the President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, made two weeks ago, that it was almost a certainty it would be to the Eisenhower's new home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Secret Documents From Pentagon Reveal That General Douglas MacArthur Twice Concurred In Opinion That Russia Should Fight Japan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Long-secret documents from Pentagon files record that Gen. Douglas MacArthur twice concurred directly in the opinion that Russia should move into the World War II conflict against Japan.

Once was three days after Pearl Harbor, when he called a northern strike at Japan a "golden opportunity." The other was in mid-June 1945, two months before the war ended, when he said, "The hazard and loss (to American attacking forces) will be greatly lessened by a Russian attack."

But the admittedly incomplete 35,000-word record released by the Pentagon yesterday neither confirmed nor contradicted MacArthur's contention last spring that he had no advance knowledge of the Yalta conference, and was "most emphatically" against bringing the Soviet Union into the conflict at that time.

MacArthur himself was not immediately available for comment on the released documents, a copy of which was sent to him in New York Tuesday night.

FRED G. KLUNK IS IMPROVING

Adams County Democratic Chairman Fred G. Klunk, New Oxford, is reported "progressing satisfactorily" at the Harrisburg General Hospital where he has been a patient since last Thursday, when he was stricken while working in his office in Harrisburg.

Mr. Klunk, who is head of the department of liquid fuels tax in the State Department of Revenue, was at work last Thursday morning when he suddenly collapsed and was removed, unconscious, to the Harrisburg Hospital.

Physicians have not yet announced the nature of his illness, but have continued to make tests. Several years ago a spasm of the vagus nerve closed his esophagus and he was confined for some time. Fatigue was listed as a contributory cause for that illness, and his family physician, Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, of New Oxford, said today that Mr. Klunk had been "working hard for a long time" prior to his present illness. In addition to his Harrisburg post and county chairmanship, he also heads the Old Quaker Pretzel Company, in New Oxford.

While a patient at Harrisburg, he is now allowed out of bed for portions of the day. It was not known how soon he will return to his home.

At another committee meeting held at the Moose Lodge Wednesday evening preliminary plans were made for dedication of the new home November 15 through 20.

Here And There News Collected At Random

John Foster Dulles, President Eisenhower's Secretary of State, recently outlined this country's position in world affairs. A condensed version was published by Time magazine after Mr. Dulles had addressed the American Legion convention in Miami. Mr. Dulles said that because the Soviet Union's record is so sullied it is impossible to tell whether "the spirit of Geneva" marks a genuine change of Communist purpose or whether it is a Red maneuver.

Time's presentation follows:

As a result, the U. S. must follow a policy that will not rebuff a real change for the better, but will not expose the nation to mortal danger. "Fortunately," said the Secretary of State, "we have basic assets, material and moral," to underpin that policy. "We have productivity," he said. "Our rate of productivity is the greatest in history, now estimated at nearly $400 billion a year. The magnitude of that can be appreciated when it is noted that it is three times that of the Soviet Union with its much larger population. It is the result of free choice. No (Continued on Page 8)

Marjorie Dies During Surgery

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Marjorie Lee Elder, the 12-year-old "Post Card Girl" from Lewistown, Pa., died on the operating table during a delicate brain operation yesterday.

A team of surgeons was attempting to remove a calcium deposit from her brain. The operation was scheduled to last seven hours. She died when it was two-thirds completed.

The operation hadn't worried the brave little girl, whose only request had been to get "lots of cards" to fill her scrapbook.

She got plenty of them. During her two-week stay in the hospital, newspaper readers and radio listeners sent her more than 8,000 cards. Several thousand other cards were sent to her Lewistown home.

Doctors said the operation was a necessity. They told her parents death could come at any time without the operation. Had the operation been successful, Marjorie would have been blind in one eye and partially paralyzed.

Police Continue Search For Slayer Of Three Boys

CHICAGO (AP)—The search for the slayer of three boys was concentrated today in the area where they last were seen alive.

Fifty uniformed policemen and detectives were assigned to a house-to-house canvass of a north-west side around Milwaukee Ave. and Giddings St.

The victims—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuster, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11—got off a bus there shortly before 9 p.m. Sunday night.

Some time between then and midnight, investigators figure, the youths were taken captive, beaten and strangled. Their nude bodies were found just after noon Tuesday.

229 INOCULATED IN LITTLESTOWN FOR SECOND TIME

With 229 pupils inoculated this morning at Littlestown, the number of Adams County elementary school children who have received their second "shots" of Salk vaccine is now 1,622.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County medical examiner, who is in charge of arrangements for the inoculation, said that the number is running slightly lower than the number who received the first "shot" last spring. However, "call backs" are made to give the injection to more than 100 youngsters who are ill at the present time.

At Fairfield, where 96 received the second inoculation against polio, the number was unusually low because of many cases of mumps in the Fairfield area schools.

Some Deferred
Sniffles, temperatures, and similar minor complaints barred a number of others, in all of the schools, from receiving the shots along with their classmates. Dr. Crist said it is expected that those who were deferred because of illness will receive the shots in "about two weeks," after they have recovered.

At Gettysburg, Wednesday, 494 were inoculated. 560 received the shot in the spring. Part of that loss was caused by illnesses, part by the moving away of children who received their first shots and their replacement by youngsters who had no proof that they had been previously inoculated. Only those who were given the first shot are receiving the second inoculation.

Friday the inoculations will take place at East Berlin and on Monday the "shots" will be given at York Springs. At New Oxford earlier this week 225 were inoculated, at Biglerville, 225, and at McSherrystown, 353.

OLD SCHOOL UP FOR SALE TODAY

The 97-year-old High St. School was offered for sale this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Gettysburg school directors met in special session at the school house for the sale, in event any developments would require special action by the board.

Among bidders was the borough of Gettysburg, which was scheduled to bid up to an amount set by the finance and property committees of the council at a special joint committee meeting last week. Action by the council was not taken because that would make the promised bid a matter of public record prior to the sale.

The High St. School, after serving generations of Gettysburg residents as a school, was closed finally last May, and the children attending it transferred, with the beginning of the new school year this fall, to the Keefauver School.

He Paid And Paid And He May Pay More

It cost Albert H. Mitchell, Philadelphia, $150 Wednesday because he found his old driver's license, and he may have to pay more.

Mitchell was charged by state police before Justice of the Peace Robert H. Snyder with displaying a bogus operator's license. He paid $50 fine and costs on that charge. He was charged with making misstatements of fact in connection with his driver's license, and paid a fine of $100 and costs in that case.

He was also charged with operating a car while his driver's license was suspended. He pleaded guilty to that, and posted $500 bail to appear in November court for sentence.

Police explained that Mitchell lost his license and secured a duplicate from the State Department of Revenue to replace it.

Shortly afterward the state suspended his driving privileges, and he returned the duplicate card to the state as directed.

Sometime afterward he "discovered" his original license in a pocketbook and, according to police, began driving again, using the original driver's license.

Here And There News Collected At Random

John Foster Dulles, President Eisenhower's Secretary of State, recently outlined this country's position in world affairs. A condensed version was published by Time magazine after Mr. Dulles had addressed the American Legion convention in Miami.

Mr. Dulles said that because the Soviet Union's record is so sullied it is impossible to tell whether "the spirit of Geneva" marks a genuine change of Communist purpose or whether it is a Red maneuver.

Time's presentation follows: As a result, the U. S. must follow a policy that will not rebuff a real change for the better, but will not expose the nation to mortal danger. "Fortunately," said the Secretary of State, "we have basic assets, material and moral," to underpin that policy.

"We have productivity," he said. "Our rate of productivity is the greatest in history, now estimated at nearly $400 billion a year. The magnitude of that can be appreciated when it is noted that it is three times that of the Soviet Union with its much larger population. It is the result of free choice. No (Continued On Page 8)

Marjorie Dies During Surgery

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Marjorie Lee Elder, the 12-year-old "Post Card Girl" from Lewistown, Pa., died on the operating table during a delicate brain operation yesterday.

A team of surgeons was attempting to remove a calcium deposit from her brain. The operation was scheduled to last seven hours. She died when it was two-thirds completed.

The operation hadn't worried the brave little girl, whose only request had been to get "lots of cards" to fill her scrapbook.

She got plenty of them. During her two-week stay in the hospital, newspaper readers and radio listeners sent her more than 8,000 cards. Several thousand other cards were sent to her Lewistown home.

Doctors said the operation was a necessity. They told her parents death could come at any time without the operation. Had the operation been successful, Marjorie would have been blind in one eye and partially paralyzed.

229 INOCULATED IN LITTLESTOWN FOR SECOND TIME

With 229 pupils inoculated this morning at Littlestown, the number of Adams County elementary school children who have received their second "shots" of Salk vaccine is now 1,622.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County medical examiner, who is in charge of arrangements for the inoculation, said that the number is running slightly lower than the number who received the first "shot" last spring. However, "call backs" are made to give the injection to more than 100 youngsters who are ill at the present time.

At Fairfield, where 96 received the second inoculation against polio, the number was unusually low because of many cases of mumps in the Fairfield area schools.

Some Deferred
Sniffles, temperatures, and similar minor complaints barred a number of others, in all of the schools, from receiving the shots along with their classmates. Dr. Crist said it is expected that those who were deferred because of illness will receive the shots in "about two weeks," after they have recovered.

At Gettysburg, Wednesday, 494 were inoculated. 560 received the shot in the spring. Part of that loss was caused by illnesses, part by the moving away of children who received their first shots and their replacement by youngsters who had no proof that they had been previously inoculated. Only those who were given the first shot are receiving the second inoculation.

Friday the inoculations will take place at East Berlin and on Monday the "shots" will be given at York Springs. At New Oxford earlier this week 225 were inoculated, at Biglerville, 225, and at McSherrystown, 353.

The 97-year-old High St. School was offered for sale this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OLD SCHOOL UP FOR SALE TODAY

Gettysburg school directors met in special session at the school house for the sale, in event any developments would require special action by the board.

Among bidders was the borough of Gettysburg, which was scheduled to bid up to an amount set by the finance and property committees of the council at a special joint committee meeting last week. Action by the council was not taken because that would make the promised bid a matter of public record prior to the sale.

The High St. School, after serving generations of Gettysburg residents as a school, was closed finally last May, and the children attending it transferred, with the beginning of the new school year this fall, to the Keefauver School.

He Paid And Paid And He May Pay More

It cost Albert H. Mitchell, Philadelphia, $150 Wednesday because he found his old driver's license, and he may have to pay more.

Mitchell was charged by state police before Justice of the Peace Robert H. Snyder with displaying a bogus operator's license. He paid $50 fine and costs on that charge. He was charged with making misstatements of fact in connection with his driver's license, and paid a fine of $100 and costs in that case.

He was also charged with operating a car while his driver's license was suspended. He pleaded guilty to that, and posted $500 bail to appear in November court for sentence.

Police explained that Mitchell lost his license and secured a duplicate from the State Department of Revenue to replace it.

Shortly afterward the state suspended his driving privileges, and he returned the duplicate card to the state as directed.

Sometime afterward he "discovered" his original license in a pocketbook and, according to police, began driving again, using the original driver's license.

ELECTRIC FIRM FORESEES LABOR SHORTAGE AHEAD

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of a leading electrical firm said Tuesday the nation's major problem in the machine age ahead is more likely to be labor shortage than mass unemployment.

Don G. Mitchell, chairman and president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., said he does not share fears that automation, or the growing use of labor-saving machinery, will result in fewer jobs. Instead he said, it will create more employment.

"But I am concerned," he said in testimony prepared for the Senate-House committee studying automation trends, "about the strong probability of a labor shortage in the years ahead unless the rate of mechanization is increased."

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harry McCarney, of Waynesboro, he is a graduate of Washington Twp High School in 1937. Married to Margaret Ann Tom, he is the father of two children, Linda Grayce, aged 12 and Stephen Bart, aged seven.

Employees of the old York Sanitary Milk Company. Another one of the companies that became the modern Penn Dairies.

creased mechanization without labor-saving devices and over-all greater production efficiency, the public's need would simply not have been met."

Mitchell cited a business magazine's prediction that if the present rate of automation continues, all available workers by 1947 will be needed working full time to meet production demands and a shorter work week will be out of the question.

Miss Jean L. Daddow, representative of the Du Pont Company, addressed approximately 75 members of the Women's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity and their guests, the Littlestown 4-H Club, at a meeting Wednesday evening in the POS of A Hall.

The speaker told the story of Du Pont's family of man-made fibers. She traced the family tree from the 1800's in France to the rayon and acetate in the 1820's down to the synthetic fibers of nylon, which is 16 years old; orlon, ten years old and four-year-old dacron. Miss Daddow told her story from the synthetic materials which go into the fibers through the finished product and she had on display a wide variety of clothing and materials. The speaker pointed out that the textile industry employs one-fifth of the world's working population.

Mrs. James W. Fager, acting chairman of the Legislation and Citizenship Committee, introduced Miss Daddow and also presented Robert Yingling, who sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Karl P. Bankert.

MIDWAY MARK IN SCHOOLBOY SEASON HERE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's high school grid squads kick off the second half of the scholastic season this weekend in a new scramble for league leads.

The Western and Eastern conferences are in what amounts to an early season jumble for leadership. In the powerful WPIAL it's anybody's guess as to the final outcome in AA competition.

The Central Penn features a neck-and-neck race between defending titlist Williamsport and Steelton, and it is the same story in the South Penn between Carlisle and Hanover.

In the Western Conference top-rated Indiana will meet undefeated Westmont in a clash that could decide top spot in the far-flung loop. So far Indiana has won only two conference games against no defeats or ties, but the king-makers consider caliber of opposition in deciding leaders in the league. Westmont is ranked fourth with a 3-0-1 card.

Holding down the next two spots are Somerset and Huntingdon, each with five wins. Somerset meets Boswell Friday, while Huntingdon takes on Curwensville.

Eastern Loop Feature
In the Eastern Conference's Southern Division top-ranked Minersville — which replaced Mount Carmel after the Tornadoes' 40-6 loss to Coal Twp. — meets a big, rugged West Hazleton club in the top game of the loop.

Mount Carmel, still definitely in contention for loop honors, is ranked second. The Tornadoes face fifth rated Pottsville Friday.

Coal Township now ranked third, takes the weekend off.

The Northern Division is in a new shuffle for the lead. Scranton Central held the division top slot for just one day—Sunday—before dropping a hard-fought game to West Scranton Monday, 20-14. The victory for West Scranton gives them a 4-0-0 record and a clear shot at the division crown. West also has a weekend off.

Another front runner in the division is Old Forge, coming back into loop action this weekend against newly deposed Scranton Central.

Aliquippa In Test
Game of the week in the WPIAL throws undefeated Aliquippa and Sharon against each other Friday night. Each has three victories in the loop. A loss or a tie drops a team from contention for the WPIAL crown.

Other undefeated three-game winners in WPIAL action this weekend are Altoona, which meets

Herald subsequently declared that MacArthur was "known" to have messaged the Joint Chiefs of Staff "pleading for concessions to get Russia into the Japanese war."

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) declared in Senate speech that MacArthur was "trying to rewrite history."

Newsmen and congressmen, seeking to clarify the issue, began pressing for answers at the Pentagon. Yesterday's 107-page release of documents and summaries was the result.

Jap Collapse Foreseen
In his statement for newsmen last March, MacArthur said the collapse of Japan was "clearly apparent several months" before the Yalta meeting. He asserted that "all my dispatches and reports clearly enunciated this viewpoint" and said he had stated that on Sept. 21 and Oct. 20, 1944.

Newsmen yesterday could find no reference to such reports in the Pentagon's release. They asked about it. A spokesman said those statements were made in wartime communiques for the press and therefore were not included in the official file of MacArthur dispatches which the Pentagon keeps.

The report was compiled after months of consultation by Pentagon officials with the State Department, Army, Navy and Air Force and a study of their records. A covering statement on the report said it did not tell "the full story" of Soviet entry into the war because some aspects were handled outside the military departments (possibly a reference to the State Department and the British government.)

Greensburg, Johnstown at New Castle, and Mt. Lebanon against Uniontown. The only other undefeated teams are Turtle Creek, which has an outside-the-league game, and Ambridge, with a 2-0 log, meeting Ellwood City.

In the Central Penn, Steelton and Williamsport will continue to work on their undefeated records against Lancaster and John Harri, respectively. The two leaders meet Nov. 24 in the final game for each and the game that may be for the loop championship.

2 Million Test Miles
"Pontiac is proud to be the first to introduce a big and vital General Motors first—Pontiac's new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission," R. M. Critchfield, General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said today. "In over two million test miles this revolutionary transmission system demonstrated smooth, effortless shifting. This new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission combined with Pontiac's more powerful V-8 engine will give Pontiac owners a new experience in positive efficient performance. There is no interruption in transmitting power to the rear wheels and gear action is barely noticeable. This positive action insures unhampered acceleration for quick, safe maneuvering."

"The longer and lower look of Pontiac's new body styles combines with big-car riding comfort in the new series," Critchfield pointed out. "The colors of Pontiac Vogue two-tones are picked up in the luxurious interiors. Exciting new fabrics are colorful with durability, cleanliness and slideability."

Mechanical Improvements
Foremost among the mechanical improvements in the new models are the new Strato-Streak V-8 engines — bigger and sturdier than ever and upped in horsepower to 227 in the Star Chief series and 205 in the 870 and 860 series. The upsurge in horsepower comes from the increased displacement, higher compression ratios up to 8.9:1, and improved carburetion.

Pontiac offers three Strato-Streak body series in 1956. Longer by 2.4 inches overall, the 15 new body styles have a longer, lower looking silhouette.

Most luxurious of the three series, the Star Chief line, consists of the custom Catalina two and four-door "hardtops," four-door sedan, and convertible, on a 124-inch wheelbase and the Safari Station Wagon on 122-inch wheelbase.

THOMAS MAKES HASTE 'TO PICK UP A FRIEND'

HARRISBURG (AP) — Secretary of Property and Supplies William D. Thomas today faced a charge of reckless driving after police said his state-owned automobile tumbled over an embankment in near-by Camp Hill.

Justice of the Peace William F. Yetter said the charge was filed against Thomas yesterday by policeman Robert Wetzler. If convicted, Thomas would be subject to a $25 fine and the possible suspension of his operator's license.

Fred T. Long, Lower Allen Twp. patrolman, who investigated the accident with Wetzler, said it occurred near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge dividing Camp Hill and Lower Allen Twp. in Cumberland County.

Suffers Injuries
Thomas, 47, suffered leg injuries in the accident and was under a doctor's care at his Harrisburg apartment.

Reached at his home by a newsman, Thomas said: "I was probably in a little hurry. That was the trouble."

Asked why he was using a state-and four-door three-seat station wagon.

Comprising the low priced 860 series are the Catalina coupes and sedans, two and four-door sedans, two-door, two-seat station wagons and four-door three-seat station wagons.

"FALLING LEAVES"

When the leaves of brown start falling . . . and they roll along the ground . . . I am always held a captive . . . by the wonders they expound . . . as they dance a hula-hula . . . as they rustle in the breeze . . . and I marvel at their vigor . . . filled with antics meant to please . . . merrily they tumble onward . . . spinning like a giant top . . . only when the wild wind ceases . . . are they ever prone to stop . . . even then they are quite restless . . . and they sway from side of side . . . till they break in many pieces . . . and in Mother Earth abide . . . brittle leaves always remind me . . . how we humans waste away . . . aglow in life's warm summertime . . . in the fall we gray . . . so when the leaves start falling . . . I watch them roll along . . . in a pensive mood I hum . . . that sweet September song.

MIDWAY MARK IN SCHOOLBOY SEASON HERE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's high school grid squads kick off the second half of the scholastic season this weekend in a new scramble for league leads.

The Western and Eastern conferences are in what amounts to an early season jumble for leadership. In the powerful WPIAL it's anybody's guess as to the final outcome in AA competition.

The Central Penn features a neck-and-neck race between defending titlist Williamsport and Steelton, and it is the same story in the South Penn between Carlisle and Hanover.

In the Western Conference top-rated Indiana will meet undefeated Westmont in a clash that could decide top spot in the far-flung loop.

So far Indiana has won only two conference games against no defeats or ties, but the king-makers consider caliber of opposition in deciding leaders in the league. Westmont is ranked fourth with a 3-0-1 card.

Holding down the next two spots are Somerset and Huntingdon, each with five wins. Somerset meets Boswell Friday, while Huntingdon takes on Curwensville.

Eastern Loop Feature

In the Eastern Conference's Southern Division top-ranked Minersville — which replaced Mount Carmel after the Tornados' 40-6 loss to Coal Twp. — meets a big, rugged West Hazleton club in the top game of the loop.

Mount Carmel, still definitely in contention for loop honors, is ranked second. The Tornados face fifth rated Poitville Friday.

Coal Township now ranked third, takes the weekend off.

The Northern Division is in a new shuffle for the lead. Scranton Central held the division top slot for just one day—Sunday—before dropping a hard-fought game to West Scranton Monday, 20-14. The victory for West Scranton gives them a 4-0-0 record and a clear hot at the division crown. West also has a weekend off.

Another front runner in the division is Old Forge, coming back into loop action this weekend against newly deposed Scranton Central.

Aliquippa In Test

Game of the week in the WPIAL throws undefeated Aliquippa and Sharon against each other Friday night. Each has three victories in the loop. A loss or a tie drops a team from contention for the WPIAL crown.

Other undefeated three-game winners in WPIAL action this weekend are Altoona, which meets

Herald subsequently declared that MacArthur was "known" to have messaged the Joint Chiefs of Staff "pleading for concessions to get Russia into the Japanese war."

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) declared in Senate speech that MacArthur was "trying to rewrite history."

News men and congressmen, seeking to clarify the issue, began pressing for answers at the Pentagon. Yesterday's 107-page release of documents and summaries was the result.

Jap Collapse Foreseen

In his statement for newsmen last March, MacArthur said the collapse of Japan was "clearly apparent several months" before the Yalta meeting. He asserted that "all my dispatches and reports clearly enunciated this viewpoint" and said he had stated that on Sept. 21 and Oct. 20, 1944.

Newsman yesterday could find no reference to such reports in the Pentagon's release. They asked about it. A spokesman said those statements were made in wartime communiques for the press and therefore were not included in the official file of MacArthur dispatches which the Pentagon keeps.

The report was compiled after months of consultation by Pentagon officials with the State Department, Army, Navy and Air Force and a study of their records. A covering statement on the report said it did not tell "the full story" of Soviet entry into the war because some aspects were handled outside the military departments (possibly a reference to the State Department and the British government.)

Greensburg, Johnstown at New Castle, and Mt. Lebanon against Uniontown. The only other undefeated teams are Turtle Creek, which has an outside-the-league game, and Ambridge, with a 2-0 log, meeting Ellwood City.

In the Central Penn, Steelton and Williamsport will continue to work on their undefeated records against Lancaster and John Harri, respectively. The two leaders meet Nov. 24 in the final game for each and the game that may be for the loop championship.

2 Million Test Miles

"Pontiac is proud to be the first to introduce a big and vital General Motors first—Pontiac's new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission," R. M. Critchfield, General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said today. "In over two million test miles this revolutionary transmission system demonstrated smooth, effortless shifting. This new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic transmission combined with Pontiac's more powerful V-8 engine will give Pontiac owners a new experience in positive efficient performance. There is no interruption in transmitting power to the rear wheels and gear action is barely noticeable. This positive action insures unhampered acceleration for quick, safe maneuvering.

"The longer and lower look of Pontiac's new body styles combines with big-car riding comfort in the new series," Critchfield pointed out. "The colors of Pontiac's new two-tones are picked up in the luxurious interiors. Exciting new fabrics are colorful with durability, cleanliness and slideability."

Mechanical Improvements

Foremost among the mechanical improvements in the new models are the new Strato-Streak V-8 engines — bigger and sturdier than ever and upped in horsepower to 227 in the Star Chief series and 205 in the 870 and 860 series. The upsurge in horsepower comes from the increased displacement, higher compression ratios up to 8.9:1, and improved carburetion.

Pontiac offers three Strato-Streak body series in 1956. Longer by 24 inches overall, the 15 new body styles have a longer, lower looking silhouette.

Most luxurious of the three series, the Star Chief line, consists of the custom Catalina two and four-door "hardtops," four-door sedan, and convertible, on a 124-inch wheelbase and the Safari Station Wagon on 122-inch wheelbase.

In Pontiac's middle-priced 870 series with 122-inch wheelbase are the Catalina coupes and four-door "hardtops," a four-door sedan, a two-door two-seat station wagon

THOMAS MAKES HASTE 'TO PICK UP A FRIEND'

HARRISBURG (AP)—Secretary of Property and Supplies William D. Thomas today faced a charge of reckless driving after police said his state-owned automobile tumbled over an embankment in near-by Camp Hill.

Justice of the Peace William F. Yetter said the charge was filed against Thomas yesterday by policeman Robert Wetzel. If convicted, Thomas would be subject to a $25 fine and the possible suspension of his operator's license.

Fred T. Long, Lower Allen Twp. patrolman, who investigated the accident with Wetzel, said it occurred near the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge dividing Camp Hill and Lower Allen Twp. in Cumberland County.

Suffers Injuries

Thomas, 47, suffered leg injuries in the accident and was under a doctor's care at his Harrisburg apartment.

Reached at his home by a newsman, Thomas said:

"I was probably in a little hurry. That was the trouble."

Asked why he was using a state-

owned car at 2:30 a.m., the time when police said the accident occurred, Thomas said he was en route to a point on Rt. 15 "to pick up a friend who had called me."

He said the friend's car had broken down.

Thomas, a Sharon wholesale florist named to Gov. Leader's cabinet last January with the change of administration, said he didn't know if he would fight the arrest.

Today's Talk

INFLUENCE OF WOMEN

Never can the influence of women in the world be adequately appraised. It is too great. From the Mother of Jesus down the ages to the mothers, wives and sweethearts that have had their influence upon us all, as men, we owe an undying tribute.

Lord Northcliffe became a great English newspaper publisher largely because he believed in, and understood, the influence of women over the affairs of men. Just before he died and was on his last cruise around the world, he sent a daily message to his mother in London. The mother of Napoleon remained his one best friend to the very end of his life, together with his faithful valet.

One of the undying pictures in my memory is that last look my mother gave me as I returned to college, never looking upon her again. We both understood, and that smile of hers is as fresh in my heart as though it had been but yesterday that I looked upon it. Oh, mothers of the world! Never can we repay all for your sacrifices, your love, and your inspiring devotion.

Greatly do I pay tribute to the teachers I had in school and college who were women. Many of their lessons remain to me unforgotten. There is a subtlety in that silent influence they so openly manifest, no matter to whom they reveal it. Newspaper publishers recognize this power of women and so seek to make their papers interesting and appealing to women.

I have a little book telling of the Mothers of American Presidents, and there are illustrated the character and background that did so much to bring out the later greatness of each President. A nation owes more to its women than it can ever repay. God grant the time may rapidly come when their faces will never be bathed in tears because of useless and tragic wars!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk

tesy"

The so-called JALOPY STOCK CAR RACING has taken the coun-thousands of cars and nearly as many tracks have sprung up over the country, with terrific interest and attendance. This is easy to understand, for a JALOPY with all the "fixins" costs only a few hun-

1932 through 1948. This make it
POOR MAN'S RACING. Compare this to Spring, and Indianapolis

WALLACE RAPS
TRUMAN IN HOT
SPEECH DISPUTE

SOUTH SALEM, N. Y. (AP) —
Henry A. Wallace has cited records which he claims show that former President Truman gave prior approval to a New York City speech by Wallace which resulted in his dismissal as secretary of commerce.

Truman, in an installment of his memoirs published in Life magazine, writes that Wallace visited him just before his speech Sept.
12, 1946, at Madison square Garden.

Truman said he had no time to "read the speech even in part"
and added:

Okays Speech, Allegedly
"To make things worse, when Wallace delivered the speech, which was an all-out attack on our foreign policy, he said . . . that he talked to me in this vein and that I approved of what he was saying."

Wallace, from his farm here last night, said in an interview he would "refuse to get into any argument or controversy" but would confine his reply "to the record made day by day in my own notes or in the press in September of 1946."

Three days after he made the speech, Wallace said, a news story in the Washington Post said a reporter asked Truman if he had approved only a section of the speech or the whole speech.

Cites Washington News
"Mr. Truman said he approved the whole speech," Wallace said the Sept. 15 story said.

He also cited the Washington
News for Sept. 14, 1946, as saying that Truman "said he had read the whole speech and approved it all" and that "it did not conflict with our foreign policy."

Wallace said he made the following notation the evening of Sept.
10, 1946, two days before the speech:
"At the meeting with the President, I went over page by page,

PRO GRID LOOP
TO DRAFT EARLY;
FEAR CANADIANS

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League will hold part of its annual college player draft two months early this year in an effort to beat the Canadian League to the cream of the crop.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL said last night that the league will meet in Philadelphia sometime between Nov. 14 and Nov. 28
—probably Monday, Nov. 28—to make the bonus pick and select the first three choices.

Bell's announcement came after a Milwaukee Journal sports writer quoted an unnamed league club owner as saying the loop would hold a secret draft meeting Nov.
28 because of Canadian raids. The unidentified owner was quoted as saying:

Resent Canadian Raids
"We are sick and tired of Canadian raids on our best college talent. We've had to sit helplessly by in the past, with our draft in January, while Canadian clubs swooped down in late November or December and plucked off, or at least approached, the cream of the crop."

Bell rejected the secret meeting contention, saying, "I sent out a bulletin to club owners informing them of the meeting and specifically stating that an announcement of the early draft would be made to the press at least two weeks before the date of the meeting."

He said the main reason for the early draft would be to offset the possibilities of lawsuits between NFL teams and Canadian football clubs. He said the meeting was not considered a weapon to combat raids on NFL selections by Canadian teams, although it quite obviously is.

Many Sign Early

The commissioner went on to say that many players elected in their draft already were signed by Canadian teams by the time the January meeting rolled around.

"Some players would say they weren't signed by the Canadians and they weren't; some would say they were and they weren't. We ended up in lawsuits. That we wanted to avoid," Bell said.

He said that the meeting would enable NFL teams to contact college players at least at the same time as the Canadians.

Bell said that the position of the league teams in the race at the time of the early draft would determine the order of selection.
Normally the teams with the lowest percentages draw first with the champions picking last. The bonus pick is a draw out of the hat with the winner given blanket choice of any eligible college draftee in the nation.

Hershey, Last Grid Victim Of Warriors, Here Friday; Bolt Win Would Mean Title

Gettysburg High School's last gridiron victory was over Hershey High School in 1954 and the Warriors will attempt to repeat that trick when they meet the Trojans here Friday evening at 8 o'clock in a South Penn Conference game.

Last October 29, the Warriors won at Hershey 12-6 and since that time have lost six, five this year, and tied another.

Both schools have been undergoing rough campaigns this year. Whereas the Warriors are winless with a tie, Hershey has one victory against five setbacks. The Trojans have lost to Milton Hershey, Palmyra, Carlisle, Hanover and Hummelstown. Their lone triumph was a 19-7 win at Waynesboro in a South Penn game.

Coach Howard Shoemaker is hopeful his team's offense will start to click with this game. The Warriors, who tallied two touchdowns each in their first four games, were scoreless in losing their last two games to Mechanicsburg and Middletown.

Frank Kamus, coaching Hershey for the first time, relies heavily on two veteran halfbacks, Glenn Weidner and Ronnie Upperman, for his offensive punch with Bobby Gipe, a converted fullback, handling the split-T quarterback duties.

No change is anticipated in Gettysburg's lineup which will probably include Gorman and Dearing, ends; Naugle and Weaver, tackles; Keller and Biessecker, guards; Smith, center; Weishaar, Stough, Stouck and Furney, backs.

Friday's game will mark the 20th between Hershey and Gettysburg. Hershey holds a 9-8 edge with two games resulting in ties.

"Title" Contest

Top game in the South Penn program Friday night will be the battle between Hanover and Carlisle at Hanover. Both teams are undefeated and the winner will be an odds-on favorite to go in to the league championship.

In another league game Middletown plays at Chambersburg. Non-conference games include New Cumberland at Mechanicsburg, and Waynesboro at Shippensburg.

Littlestown-Kennard Dale
Over-confidence may be one of the biggest obstacles for Coach Wib Gobrecht's undefeated Littlestown Thunderbolts when they tangle with Kennard-Dale at Littlestown, Friday evening at 8.

Littlestown needs only a win over Kennard-Dale to clinch the Laurel League title and should win handsily. The York Countians have lost two conference games, the last of which was a 20-0 decision to West York last week, a team which the Bolts downed 6-0 in the season's opener.

Kennard-Dale has an ample supply of veterans on its squad, 16 lettermen remaining from last year. The Thunderbolts will be gunning for their 13th straight victory. Last year they compiled a 7-0-1 record and tied for the Laurel championship with West York. This season the scrappy Bolt outfit has chalked up five straight triumphs.

Biglerville-Susquehannock
Biglerville will attempt to snap out of its losing ways Saturday night when it is host to Susquehannock in another Laurel Conference affair.

The Cannons started their campaign auspiciously with victories over Shippensburg and Camp Hill but then hit the skids to drop three straight to Bolling Springs, West York and Littlestown.

Like Biglerville, Susquehannock has lost two conference games, bowing to Littlestown by a narrow 12-6 margin and to West York. The game shapes up as a close affair with Bill Coradetti's Cannons a slight favorite.

Delone-Lebanon Catholic
Delone High's rock-ribbed defense, which has not permitted the opposition a single point in the last four games, will be given a

Waynesboro Jr. Hi Here Tonight

Tonight at 7 o'clock the Gettysburg Junior High football team clashes with Waynesboro on the local field in a South Penn Junior High League game.

Ned Brownley's Braves have a 1-1 record in league competition, having defeated Washington Township and lost to Shippensburg.

Waynesboro has not yet engaged in a league game.

test Friday night when the Squires clash with Lebanon Catholic on the latter's field in a non-conference contest.

After suffering a defeat at the hands of Hanover in the first game of the campaign, the Squires downed Gettysburg, Scotland and Lancaster Catholic, played a scoreless tie with Westminster, and rebounded to whip York Catholic last Sunday 48-0. Their victories over Lancaster and York gives them a perfect 2-0 record in the Central Pennsylvania Catholic circuit and the league lead.

Alex Bell's youngsters are favored to win after a tight struggle.

Yankees Get Royal Welcome In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—The New York Yankees came to baseball-mad Japan today and you would have thought they were the world champion Brooklyn Bums.

They were greeted by an eye-searing flashbulb barrage, flower girls, autograph hunters, publicity seekers and about 1,000 drenched fans.

Other thousands lined main streets as the Yankee jeep cavalcade wound through downtown Tokyo.

The Yankees arrived in two special chartered airliners for an exhibition tour.

Coeds Split Pair Of Hockey Games

The Gettysburg College girls divided a field hockey doubleheader with Millersville State Teachers College here Wednesday afternoon, the varsity bowing 2-1 while the jayvees triumphed 5-1.

As a result of the loss, the Bullets varsity now has a 2-3 record. The triumph of the jayvees was their third straight and kept them in the unbeaten ranks.

Coach Grace Kenney will take her varsity to Philadelphia Saturday for an engagement with Temple University.

Lepre And Deangelis Cop Pro-Pro Match

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles Lepre, Tavistock, and Pete Deangelis, Plymouth, won the Philadelphia district pro-pro golf championship yesterday, defeating Toby Costanza, Sunnybrook, and George Griffin Jr., Green Valley, 2 and 1. The winning team received $250. Costanza and Griffin received $150.

All Hunting On Standard Time

Migratory bird hunting (woodcock, ducks, geese, etc.) on that date will begin at 9 a.m., also. Eastern Standard Time applies regardless whether any area may be utilizing daylight saving time. Hunting for any wildlife before 9 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on October 29 is forbidden.

TOP DEFENSIVE TEAMS LEADING COLLEGE TEAMS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A solid defense, something which most football coaches and very few fans appreciate, seems to be the key to an unbeaten record this season.

Nine undefeated and untied major college teams, and one that's unbeaten but tied, show up among the first dozen in the total defense figures released today by the NCAA Statistical Bureau. Two others are in the top ten in "scoreboard defense" and that's all the top flight teams there are who haven't lost yet.

Boston College edged into the top place in defense against both rushing and passing last Saturday as Navy was unable to preserve its spotless record against Penn State. B.C. limited Detroit to 105 yards and now have given up an even 135 yards per game to three opponents. Navy, which yielded 218 yards to Penn State, has a 135.5 yards defense average for four games.

Behind these two come once-tied Auburn, Maryland, Holy Cross, Duke, Army, Colgate, Syracuse, West Virginia, Yale and Michigan. Of these teams only three—Army, Colgate and Syracuse—have been beaten.

Sooners Are Tenth
Colorado and Oklahoma, who couldn't edge into this group, are fifth and tenth, respectively, on the basis of the number of points given up per game. Navy, whose goal line was untouched until last Saturday, tops this list with 14 points in four starts, an average of 3.5 per game.

Maryland's impenetrable line has compiled the best record against ground attacks, allowing only 39.8 yards a game by rushing, and Boston College is second with a 48.7 yard allowance. Nebraska has displayed the best defense against passing, yielding only 32.4 yards per game. Second place in this department goes to Penn, a four-time loser, with only 33.8 yards a game through the air and Syracuse is third with 34.7 yards.

Other departmental defense leaders: punting, Mississippi and Michigan State with 41.7 yard averages; punt returns, George Washington, 20.5 yards per runback; kickoff returns, Southern California, 29 yards; passing percentage, Auburn 24.4 per cent (11 of 45 completed); pass interceptions, Maryland, 16 of 111 passes intercepted.

Frosh Gridders To Oppose Diplomats

Jim Lentz will take his Gettysburg College freshman football team to Lancaster for its first game of the season Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Franklin and Marshall yerlings. Originally the Bullets were listed to meet Bucknell here last week but the game was cancelled due to inclement weather.

The Diplomats defeated Bucknell 19-7 and last week lost to Stevens Trade 31-0. The Tradesmen will also be met by the Bullets later in the season.

Karas Continues To Lead Scorers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mike Karas of Geneva continues today to be the No. 1 scorer among Pennsylvania collegiate football players.

Karas held on to the lead for the second straight week even though he collected only one point—a successful conversion attempt—in last Friday's game with Thiel. He has a total of 38 points on six touchdowns and two conversions, tallied in five games.

Westminster's Bill White scored two touchdowns as his teammates joined him in routing Grove City to up his point scoring total to 36, on six touchdowns. He has played in three games.

Charley Travers of Slippery Rock is third with 33 followed by Dan Nolan, Lehigh, with 31; Frank Capitani, Gettysburg, 30; while five others are tied with 24—John Tuccim, Carnegie Tech; Bob Ford, Bucknell; George Dinterman, Lock Haven; Ron Stammel, National Ags; and Bob Famous, Ursinus.

Central League Admits Dauphin

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Central Dauphin High School was admitted to the Central Penn Basketball Conference for the 1956-57 season at a meeting of the league here last night.

The new joint school, representing seven school districts east of Harrisburg, was granted admission through a change in league bylaws to increase membership from eight to nine teams.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Three Leading College Teams Are Picked To Win Saturday's Battles; Pick Other Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—Last week's deluge of upsets brought a 27-20 record for an average of .575. That pulled the season's average for picking the winning football team down to .743 on figures of 162 correct selections in 218 tries.

Hoping that the wave of upsets has subsided, here are this week's winners:

Michigan over Minnesota: They always play this one for keeps and for the Little Brown Jug. Michigan, although Ron Kramer will sit it out, appears too strong for the Minnesota sophomores.

Maryland over Syracuse: Syracuse reached the preseason heights expected of it last Saturday in blanking Army but Maryland isn't going to be stopped short of the Orange Bowl this season.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Colorado annually gives Oklahoma its most rugged afternoon in Big Seven competition but the Sooners have forgotten how to lose.

Navy over Penn: Navy over Penn: George Welsh and Ronnie Beagle to give the Quakers a miserable afternoon.

Duke over Pittsburgh: Another close one for the Dukes.

UCIA over Iowa: The Uclans have recovered from that loss to Maryland. Iowa lacks a passer. A Friday night affair.

Southern California over California: A California victory might still Coach Waldorf's critics but the Trojans appear much too strong to be stopped.

Notre Dame over Purdue: If Len Dawson gets hot, his passes could put a second straight defeat on the Irish rarely—if ever—lose two in a row.

Texas A & M over Baylor: The cadet corps, known as the 12th man in the lineup when the Aggies play at home, will spur the team on to another victory.

Other Selections
Skipping over the others:
East: Lafayette over Bucknell.

BRANCH RICKEY WILL RETIRE AS PIRATES LEADER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Branch Rickey will retire as general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates Nov. 1 after more than 50 years in baseball—but he's not through with the game yet.

"I am 'retiring,' but you can put quotes around that word," he declared yesterday. "I no longer want to punch a clock and intend to see the Pittsburgh club play more games the coming season than I have for the last two or three."

The front-office wizard, who managed St. Louis and Brooklyn to National League championships, couldn't turn the trick here. In his five years as general manager and executive vice president, the Bucs finished out of last place only once, in 1951, Rickey's first year with the club.

Son May Take Over
There was no mention of his successor, but speculation centered on Branch Jr., now vice president in charge of the Pirate farm system, and another Pirate executive, Joe L. Brown, son of movie comedian Joe E. Brown.

Rickey himself said, however: "I think Branch is best suited in the job he handles right now." Rickey's five-year contract with the club reportedly paid him $100,000 a year. He had the option of renewing it for five more.

"I am not severing my affiliation with the Pirates, unless John Galbreath and Tom Johnson want me to. But I don't believe they do," Rickey said.

Galbreath, millionaire Columbus, Ohio, real estate man, is president of the club. Johnson, a Pittsburgh attorney, is vice president and treasurer.

Rickey, who will be 74 in December, said: "From now on, my interest will be in players. The radio, television and other baseball problems will be handled by someone else. . . . I will do some scouting, maybe a lot of it, in the interest of the Pirates."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
CINCINNATI (AP)—Wallace (Bud) Smith, 135, Cincinnati, outpointed Jimmy Carter, 135, New York, 15. (Smith retained world lightweight title.)

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Eddie Brant, 139½, Dayton, Ohio, knocked out Lawrence Armistead, 136, New Orleans, 8.

BUENOS AIRES—Leo Espinosa, 115½, Philippines, outpointed Roberto Castro, 116, Argentina, 10.

START OLYMPIC FUND CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK (AP)—A whole arena-full of America's greatest international champions will start the 1956 Olympic Fund drive tonight in a gigantic carnival at Madison Square Garden.

National Olympic Day, by the proclamation of President Eisenhower, will be held Saturday. This meet, featuring the best of the United States, is being held to focus attention on Olympic Day.

Track, weightlifting, figure skating, gymnastics, wrestling and fencing will comprise the program. All the proceeds, of course, will go to the Olympic fund. The winter Olympics in Corvara, Italy, are only three months away.

The weightlifters will be headed by world champions—they beat the best Russia had to offer last week—Paul Anderson and Tommy Kono.

Until yesterday, it had been thought the Russians won the team title in Munich, but American coach Bob Hoffman revealed officials forgot to include the scoring in the Mr. Universe contest, now an official part of the championships. Kono won it to give the United States 30 points to 29 for the Russians.

Wallace "Bud" Smith Keeps His Lightweight Championship

By FRITZ HOWELL
CINCINNATI (AP)—In as merry a mixup as you'll find in boxing annals, Wallace (Bud) Smith held on to his lightweight championship last night.

Smith, the 26-year-old Cincinnati, halted three-time champion Jimmy Carter's bid for a fourth title. But no one is certain today whether the decision was split or unanimous.

Smith weathered a bruising 13th round, in which he was in rubber-legged trouble all the way, and finished the 15-rounder in good shape. Then the 6,693 paying customers and a nationwide television audience sat back to await the verdict.

Judges' scorecards were collected from Willie Purcell, Joe Bink and Gene Nietschke. The collector handed the cards to Paul D. Cain, chairman of the Cincinnati Boxing Commission who looked 'em over.

Split Decision — 2
The collector went back to Bink's side of the ring, card in hand, for a hurried consultation. The ring announcer then said: "Judge Purcell, 143 for Smith, 139 for Carter. Judge Bink, 140 for Smith, 140 for Carter. Judge Nietschke, 143 for Smith, 135 for Carter."

That made Smith the winner on a split decision.

Ten minutes later Commissioner Cain told newsmen he had rechecked the cards and found that Bink's added up to 143 for Smith, 139 for Carter, and that the decision was unanimous.

But Bink, who at 70-odd is the retired city circulation manager of the Cincinnati Times-Star, tossed everything into confusion, again by stating:

"I don't care how they add it. I voted for Carter, 144 to 140."

That made it a split decision again, but by that time the television audience was watching some other program.

Commissioner Cain observed: "We must go by the figures on the card. It was unanimous for Smith."

But Bink, still judging two bouts after the main event, was adamant in his declaration that "I voted for Carter, 144 to 140. It's still split as far as I'm concerned."

The Associated Press card gave the fight to Carter by 144 to 141.

No explanations of how the 140-140 draw figure for Bink's card was arrived at, and no announcements of any kind relative to the verdict were made from the ring after the first rundown of how the judges voted.

No Knockdowns
The judges awarded the winner of a round 10 points, the loser a lesser amount, and 15-round totals decided the fight. The referee, Tony Wardorf, had no hand in the balloting.

There were no knockdowns in the scrap, which attracted a gross gate of $30,441 and a net of $25,789.35, of which the principals received $9,000 each in addition to a cut of the television receipts.

Carter, who suffered cuts requiring 20 stitches when he lost the title to Smith last June 29, was cut in the right eye in the third round and fought from the eighth on with the eye closed.

Both weighed 135.

Hershey, Last Grid Victim Of Warriors, Here Friday; Bolt Win Would Mean Title

Gettysburg High School's last gridiron victory was over Hershey High School in 1954 and the Warriors will attempt to repeat that trick when they meet the Trojans here Friday evening at 8 o'clock in a South Penn Conference game.

Last October 29, the Warriors won at Hershey 12-6 and since that time have lost six, five this year, and tied another.

Both schools have been undergoing rough campaigns this year. Whereas the Warriors are winless with a tie, Hershey has one victory against five setbacks. The Trojans have lost to Milton Hershey, Palmyra, Carlisle, Hanover and Hummelstown. Their lone triumph was a 19-7 win at Waynesboro in a South Penn game.

Coach Howard Shoemaker is hopeful his team's offense will start to click with this game. The Warriors, who tallied two touchdowns each in their first four games, were scoreless in losing their last two games to Mechanicsburg and Middletown.

Frank Kamus, coaching Hershey for the first time, relies heavily on two veteran halfbacks, Glenn Weidner and Ronnie Upperman, for his offensive punch with Bobby Gipe, a converted fullback, handling the split-T quarterback duties.

No change is anticipated in Gettysburg's lineup which will probably include Gorman and Dearing, ends; Naugle and Weaver, tackles; Keller and Biesecker, guards; Smith, center; Weishaar, Stough, Stouck and Furney, backs.

Friday's game will mark the 20th between Hershey and Gettysburg. Hershey holds a 9-8 edge with two games resulting in ties.

"Title" Contest
Top game in the South Penn program Friday night will be the battle between Hanover and Carlisle at Hanover. Both teams are undefeated and the winner will be an odds-on favorite to go in to the league championship.

In another league game Middletown plays at Chambersburg. Non-conference games include New Cumberland at Mechanicsburg, and Waynesboro at Shippensburg. Littlestown-Kennard Dale.

Over-confidence may be one of the biggest obstacles for Coach Wilb Gobrecht's undefeated Littlestown Thunderbolts when they tangle with Kennard-Dale at Littlestown, Friday evening at 8.

Littlestown needs only a win over Kennard-Dale to clinch the Laurel League title and should win handily. The York Countians have lost two conference games, the last of which was a 20-0 decision to West York last week, a team which the Bolts downed 6-0 in the season's opener.

Kennard-Dale has an ample supply of veterans on its squad, 16 lettermen remaining from last year. The Thunderbolts will be gunning for their 13th straight victory. Last year they compiled a 7-0-1 record and tied for the Laurel championship with West York.

This season the scrappy Bolt outfit has chalked up five straight triumphs.

Biglerville-Susquehannock
Biglerville will attempt to snap out of its losing ways Saturday night when it is host to Susquehannock in another Laurel Conference affair.

The Cammers started their campaign auspiciously with victories over Shippensburg and Camp Hill but then hit the skids to drop three straight to Bolling Springs, West York and Littlestown.

Like Biglerville, Susquehannock has lost two conference games, bowing to Littlestown by a narrow 12-6 margin and to West York. The game shapes up as a close affair with Bill Coradetti's Cammers a slight favorite.

After suffering a defeat at the hands of Hanover in the first game of the campaign, the Squires downed Gettysburg, Scotland and Lancaster Catholic, played a scoreless tie with Westminster, and rebounded to wallop York Catholic last Sunday 48-0. Their victories over Lancaster and York gives them a perfect 2-0 record in the Central Pennsylvania Catholic circuit and the league lead.

Alex Bell's youngsters are favored to win after a tight struggle.

Coeds Split Pair Of Hockey Games

The Gettysburg College girls divided a field hockey doubleheader with Millersville State Teachers College here Wednesday afternoon, the varsity bowing 2-1 while the jayvees triumphed 5-1.

As a result of the loss, the Bullets varsity now has a 2-3 record. The triumph of the jayvees was their third straight and kept them in the unbeaten ranks.

TOP DEFENSIVE TEAMS LEADING COLLEGE TEAMS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A solid defense, something which most football coaches and very few fans appreciate, seems to be the key to an unbeaten record this season.

Nine undefeated and untied major college teams and one that's unbeaten but tied, show up among the first dozen in the total defense figures released today by the NCAA Statistical Bureau. Two others are in the top ten in "scoreboard defense" and that's all the top flight teams there are who haven't lost yet.

Boston College edged into the top place in defense against both rushing and passing last Saturday as Navy was unable to preserve its spotless record against Penn State. B.C. limited Detroit to 105 yards and now have given up an even 135 yards per game to three opponents. Navy, which yielded 218 yards to Penn State, has a 135.5 yards defense average for four games.

Behind these two come once-tied Auburn, Maryland, Holy Cross, Duke, Army, Colgate, Syracuse, West Virginia, Yale and Michigan. Of these teams only three—Army, Colgate and Syracuse—have been beaten.

Sooners Are Tenth

Colorado and Oklahoma, who couldn't edge into this group, are fifth and tenth, respectively, on the basis of the number of points given up per game. Navy, whose goal line was untouched until last Saturday, tops this list with 14 points in four starts, an average of 3.5 per game.

Maryland's impenetrable line has compiled the best record against ground attacks, allowing only 39.8 yards a game by rushing, and Boston College is second with a 48.7 yard allowance. Nebraska has displayed the best defense against passing, yielding only 32.4 yds. per game. Second place in this department goes to Penn, a four-time loser, with only 33.8 yards a game through the air and Syracuse is third with 34.7 yards.

Other departmental defense leaders: punting, Mississippi and Michigan State with 41.7 yard averages; punt returns, George Washington, 20.5 yards per runback; kickoff returns, Southern California, 29 yards; passing percentage, Auburn 24.4 per cent (11 of 45 completed); pass interceptions, Maryland, 16 of 111 passes intercepted.

Frosh Gridders To Oppose Diplomats

Jim Lentz will take his Gettysburg College freshman football team to Lancaster for its first game of the season Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Franklin and Marshall yerlings.

Originally the Bullets were listed to meet Bucknell here last week but the game was cancelled due to inclement weather.

The Diplomats defeated Bucknell 19-7 and last week lost to Stevens Trade 31-0. The Trademen will also be met by the Bullets later in the season.

Karas Continues To Lead Scorers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mike Karas of Geneva continues today to be the No. 1 scorer among Pennsylvania collegiate football players.

Karas held on to the lead for the second straight week even though he collected only one point—a successful conversion attempt—in last Friday's game with Thiel.

He has a total of 38 points on six touchdowns and two conversions, tallied in five games.

Westminster's Bill White scored two touchdowns as his teammates joined him in routing Grove City to up his point scoring total to 36, on six touchdowns. He has played in three games.

Charley Travers of Slippery Rock is third with 33 followed by Dan Nolan, Lehigh, with 31; Frank Capitani, Gettysburg, 30; while five others are tied with 24—John Tucim, Carnegie Tech; Bob Ford, Bucknell; George Dinterman, Lock Haven; Ron Stammel, National Aggies, and Bob Famous, Ursinus.

Central League Admits Dauphin

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Central Dauphin High School was admitted to the Central Penn Basketball Conference for the 1956-57 season at a meeting of the league here last night.

The new joint school, representing seven school districts east of Harrisburg, was granted admission through a change in league bylaws to increase membership from eight to nine teams.

The collector went back to Blink's side of the ring, card in hand, for a hurried consultation. The ring announcer then said:

"Judge Purcell, 143 for Smith, 139 for Carter. Judge Blink, 140 for Smith, 140 for Carter. Judge Nietzsche, 143 for Smith, 135 for Carter."

The Associated Press card gave the fight to Carter by 144 to 141.

Today's Talk
Never can the influence of women in the world be adequately appreciated. It is too great. From the Mother of Jesus down the ages to the mothers, wives and sweethearts that have had their influence upon us all, as men, we owe an undying tribute.
I told Northcliffe became a great English newspaper publisher largely because he believed in, and understood the influence of women over the affairs of men. Just before he died and was on his last cruise around the world he sent a daily message to his mother in London. The mother of Napoleon remembered his one best friend to the very end of his life, together with his faithful valet.

One of the weird pictures in memory is that last look my mother gave me as I returned to college, never looking upon her again. We both understood and that smile of hers, as fresh in my heart as though it had been but yesterday, it looked upon it. On mothers of world! Never can we repay all for you, sacrifices, your love, and your inspiring devotion.

Gladly do I pay tribute to the teachers I had in school and college who were women. Many of the lessons remain to me unforgettably. There is a subtle influence that no man can give. I have a little book called "The Mothers of American Presidents" and there are listed the character and accomplishments that did so much to bring out the later greatness of each President. A nation owes more to a woman than it can ever repay. God grant the time may rapidly come when their faces will never be bathed in tears because of useless and tragic wars!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "Telephone Courtesy".

COMPLETION
Were every dream come true
And all the tasks were done.
There'd nothing be to do
But day by day have fun.
The men at golf could play.
The women sit and chat.
But idle left to stay
They'd soon get tired of that.
Get rid of strain and strife.
Bansu, the need to dream,
Take failure out of life
And time would endless seem.
Get rid of every doubt.
The dread of loss destroy,
Work every problem out.
Weid end both pride and joy.

EASTERN JALOPY CHAMPIONSHIP RACE AT WILLIAMS GROVE SUNDAY

The so-called JALOPY STOCK CAR RACING has taken the country by storm. In the past few years thousands of cars and nearly as many tracks have sprung up over the country with terrific interest and attendance. This is easy to understand, for a JALOPY with all the "fixins" costs only a few hundred dollars—being limited to Bodies, Motors, and Chassis from 1932 through 1948. This makes it POOR MAN'S RACING. Compare this to Spring, and Indianapolis Cars mostly of the Offie variety, which cost from $6,000 to $50,000 each.

The first CHAMPIONSHIP RACE IN HISTORY for this class of racing will be held at WILLIAMS GROVE SPEEDWAY Sunday, October 23—with a rain date of October 30. It will be the first race ever run for Jalopies under the same conditions as the great Indianapolis Classic with time trials, heats, and a grueling 50-LAP FEATURE race for the unheard of purse for this type of racing of $2,300.00 with $500.00 to the winner, plus possible time trial and heat money. Time trials will start for the 100 entries at 11 A.M.

WALLACE RAPS TRUMAN IN HOT SPEECH DISPUTE
SOUTH SALEM, N. Y. — Henry A. Wallace has cited records which he claims show that former President Truman gave prior approval to a New York City speech by Wallace which resulted in his dismissal as secretary of commerce.
Truman in a statement of his memoirs published in Life magazine, writes that Wallace visited him just before his speech Sept. 12, 1946, at Madison square Garden.
Truman said he had no time to "read the speech even in part" and added:
"To make things worse when Wallace delivered the speech, which was an all-out attack on our foreign policy, he said that he talked to me in this room and that I approved of what he was saying."

Wallace from his farm here last night, said in an interview he would "refuse to get into any argument" or controversy but would confine his reply "to the record made day by day in my own notes of in the press in September of 1946."

Three days after he made the speech, Wallace said, a news story in the Washington Post said a reporter asked Truman if he had approved only a section of the speech or the whole speech.
"Mr. Truman said he approved the whole speech," Wallace said the Sept. 15 story said.
He also cited the Washington News for Sept. 14, 1946 as saying that Truman "said he had read the whole speech and approved it all" and that "it did not conflict with our foreign policy."
Wallace said he made the following notation the evening of Sept. 10, 1946, two days before the speech:
"At the meeting with the President I went over page by page, with him, my Madison Square Gar-

PRO GRID LOOP TO DRAFT EARLY; FEAR CANADIANS
By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The National Football League will hold part of its annual early draft two months earlier this year in an effort to beat the Canadians to League to the cream of the crop.
Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL said last night that the league will meet in Philadelphia sometime between Nov. 14 and Nov. 28—probably Monday, Nov. 28—to make the bonus pick and select the first three choices.
Bell's announcement came after a Milwaukee Journal sports writer quoted an unnamed league club owner as saying the loop would hold a secret draft meeting Nov. 28 because of Canadian raids. The unidentified owner was quoted as saying:
"We are sick and tired of Canadian raids on our best college talent. We've had to sit helplessly in the past, with our draft in January, while Canadian clubs swooped down in late November or December and plucked out, or at least approached, the cream of the crop."
Bell rejected the secret meeting contention, saying "I sent out a bulletin to club owners informing them of the meeting and specifically stating that an announcement of the early draft would be made to the press at least two weeks before the date of the meeting."
He said the main reason for the early draft would be to offset the possibilities of lawsuits between NFL teams and Canadian football clubs. He said the meeting was not considered a weapon to combat raids on NFL selections by Canadian teams, although it quite obviously is.

Many Sign Early
The commissioner went on to say that many players elected in their draft already were signed by Canadian teams by the time the January meeting would be held.
"Some players would say they weren't sized by the Canadians and they weren't signed by them," he said. "We ended up in lawsuits. That we want to avoid," Bell said.
He said that the meeting would enable NFL teams to contact college players at least at the same time as the Canadians.
Bell said that the position of the league teams in the race at the time of the early draft would determine the order of selection. Normally, the teams with the lowest percentages draw first, with the champions picking last. The bonus pick is a draw out of the hat with the winner given blanket choice of any eligible college draftee in the nation.

Resent Canadian Raids
"We are sick and tired of Canadian raids on our best college talent. We've had to sit helplessly in the past, with our draft in January, while Canadian clubs swooped down in late November or December and plucked out, or at least approached, the cream of the crop."
Bell rejected the secret meeting contention, saying "I sent out a bulletin to club owners informing them of the meeting and specifically stating that an announcement of the early draft would be made to the press at least two weeks before the date of the meeting."

Formosa Tribesmen Dislike Army Shoes
TAMPA, Fla. — Formosa mountain dwellers, aborigines, dislike soldiers' shoes. They can get no other. A Nationalist Chinese official commenting on the mountain tributes says they are hardy, can fast and live like uniforms and weapons. But they hate shoes.

CITES WAY TO CUT GRID COSTS

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Bud Dudley, Villanova's modern design athletic director, says that if coaches had more faith in human nature of officials, colleges could cut their gridiron expenses.

Dudley, who startled the collegiate world by selling tickets to Villanova games to chain stores to give away with groceries, suggests that traveling teams dispense with the custom of taking along their own officials.

"The way we feel about it," says Dudley, "is that all accredited officials are competent, honest men, football rules are the same and we interpreted the same in all sections of the country. Therefore it is silly to import officials from distant points."

Dudley, of course, is talking about the common practice of using two officials from the home area and two from the region of the visiting team in intercollegiate competition. For example, two Atlantic Coast Conference officials are coming up to join two eastern arbiters for the North Carolina State-Villanova game here Saturday.

Dudley said: "Officials for our season opener with Baylor cost us $1,100. Each official is paid $100 plus expenses. We had to pay the expenses of two of them who came all the way up from Texas, as well as the expenses of two local officials."

Stock Auctioneer Learns Hard Way

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—One of New Mexico's top ringmen got trapped in his own business recently. Parley Jensen, New Mexico Stockman Magazine editor and a recognized ring expert at cattle auctions, took the wife to a furniture auction. He lost out on his first bid and told the Mrs. he would go no higher on the next item than $25. The bidding shot quickly to $20. It kept rising. Jensen finally got the furniture for $24. He discovered later he had been bidding against his wife who figured he had stopped at $20 and decided on her own to go higher.

Defense Department Reveals Documents On Controversial MacArthur-Russia Statements

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Since last April the Defense Department has been preparing a report on how Russia—with small cost and at great profit for Russia—was brought into the war against Japan.

It revolved around this question: Did or did not Gen. Douglas MacArthur, before the Yalta conference where the deal was made, recommended that Russia be brought in? He denies it.

The report, issued yesterday, is inconclusive although it would bear out MacArthur's not by what it says but by what it leaves unsaid. It's inconclusive for this reason:

The Defense Department itself says it didn't have time to go into all details, that it didn't have any records except its own, and that other officials outside the Pentagon had a hand in the deal.

How Argument Started
This is how the argument started: The Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting at Yalta was held in February 1945. There Stalin was promised territory in Asia if he'd attack Japan. He agreed, and did, thurs' advice.

The following day, MacArthur denied he had made such a recommendation. He said his views weren't asked and he didn't know the Yalta conference was being held until it was over.

He said that a early as five months before the Yalta meeting, in the fall of 1944, he considered Japan's collapse imminent and, if he had been asked about the need for Russian help, would have recommended against it.

On April 1 the Washington Post and Times Herald editorially chided MacArthur for this denial and quoted from the diary of the late James Forrestal, Navy secretary at the time, who visited MacArthur 16 days after the Yalta meeting.

Forrestal noted in his diary that MacArthur told him the United States should try to get Russia into the war on April 3, two days after the editorial, MacArthur issued another statement.

He said there was a difference between what he felt before and after Yalta. Before Yalta he was against Russia's entry in the war. But once the President had decided at Yalta Russia should come in, then MacArthur had the responsibility for carrying out the decision and making recommendations for doing so.

Members of Congress and the press, confused about the issue, asked the Defense Department to make public its records on the case.

In making the record public yesterday, the department said its report is not complete.

This much yesterday's report shows:

On Dec. 10, 1941, three days after Pearl Harbor, MacArthur, then in the Philippines, recommended to Gen. George Marshall, Army chief of staff, that Russia be induced to attack Japan to take the pressure off this country in the Pacific.

(In his March 23, 1955, statement MacArthur said that at the start of the war in 1941 he thought Russia's help was needed but that by the time of the 1945 Yalta conference he thought the opposite because he thought Japan was falling.)

Hoped For Red Attack

There is nothing in the record to show that MacArthur — after that recommendation in 1941 — ever again urged Russian participation in the war until after the Yalta conference although in those years, Roosevelt and the Joint Chiefs of Staff hoped for Russian attack on Japan and eventually planned for it.

But the report does show that

HOLD PEDDLERS IN DOPE RING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In a long, drawn out session of Police Court last night, 101 persons were held in ball for the grand jury for narcotics violations.

They were among the 116 persons police rounded up yesterday in a series of raids aimed at wiping out traffic in narcotics.

Eight of those arrested were discharged. The remaining seven were held for action of the U.S. Commissioner.

After the raids, Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons announced that a rookie policeman was suspended after a charge was made that the new cop had tipped off some narcotics peddlers that they were being investigated by undercover agents.

Robert Hackett, 25, a member of the force since May 16, is the suspended policeman. Gibbons said Hackett is reported to have disclosed the identity of some of the investigators to dope peddlers he had known in his own home neighborhood before joining the force.

30 PLANTS CLOSED

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike of 44,000 workers against Westinghouse Electric Corp. idled 30 plants for the fourth day today, while negotiators renewed settlement efforts.

MacArthur can argue, as he did in his April 3 statement this year, that in any recommendations he made about Russia's participation in the war after Yalta he was only acting in accordance with the decisions taken there.

Defense Department Reveals Documents On Controversial MacArthur-Russia Statements

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since last April the Defense Department has been preparing a report on how Russia—with small cost and at great profit for Russia—was brought into the war against Japan.

It revolved around this question: Did or didn't Gen. Douglas MacArthur, before the Yalta conference where the deal was made, recommended that Russia be brought in. He denies it.

The report, issued yesterday, is inconclusive although it would bear out MacArthur not by what it says but by what it leaves unsaid. It's inconclusive for this reason:

The Defense Department itself says it didn't have time to go into all details, that it didn't have any records except its own, and that other officials outside the Pentagon had a hand in the deal.

How Argument Started
This is how the argument started: The Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting at Yalta was held in February 1945. There Stalin was promised territory in Asia if he'd attack Japan. He agreed, and did, at the last minute.

The Republicans have criticized President Roosevelt ever since on the grounds that Russia's help wasn't needed and therefore the concessions to Stalin were unnecessary.

This much was known: The American Joint Chiefs of Staff, while MacArthur was in the Pacific, recommended to Roosevelt before he went to Yalta that Russia should be brought into the war to divide Japan's strength, save American lives and help end the war faster.

Last March 16 the Eisenhower administration made public the hitherto more or less secret record of the Yalta conference. The Democrats protested at once this was a political trick to hurt them.

Says FDR Was Advised
And Sen. Lehman (D-NY) on March 22 said Roosevelt was advised by his military leaders, including MacArthur, to get Russia to attack Japan. Lehman did not say he knew for a fact MacArthur made such a recommendation. He assumed MacArthur did because he assumed the Joint Chiefs of Staff would have asked MacArthur's advice.

The following day, MacArthur denied he had made such a recommendation. He said his views weren't asked and he didn't know the Yalta conference was being held until it was over.

He said that a year or five months before the Yalta meeting, in the fall of 1944, he considered Japan's collapse imminent and, if he had been asked about the need for Russian help, would have recommended against it.

On April 1 the Washington Post and Times Herald editorially chided MacArthur for this denial and quoted from the diary of the late James Forrestal, Navy secretary at the time, who visited MacArthur 16 days after the Yalta meeting.

Forrestal noted in his diary that MacArthur told him the United States should try to get Russia into the war. On April 3, two days after the editorial, MacArthur issued another statement.

He said there was a difference between what he felt before and after Yalta. Before Yalta he was against Russia's entry in the war. But once the President had decided at Yalta Russia should come in, then MacArthur had the responsibility for carrying out the decision and making recommendations for doing so.

Members of Congress and the press, confused about the issue, asked the Defense Department to make public its records on the case.

In making the record public yesterday, the department said its report is not complete.

This much yesterday's report shows:
On Dec. 10, 1941, three days after Pearl Harbor, MacArthur, then in the Philippines, recommended to Gen. George Marshall, Army chief of staff, that Russia be induced to attack Japan to take the pressure off this country in the Pacific.

In his March 23, 1955, statement MacArthur said that at the start of the war in 1941 he thought Russia's help was needed but that by the time of the 1945 Yalta conference he thought the opposite because he thought Japan was falling.

Hoped For Red Attack
There is nothing in the record to show that MacArthur—after that recommendation in 1941—ever again urged Russian participation in the war until after the Yalta conference although in those years Roosevelt and the Joint Chiefs of Staff hoped for Russian attack on Japan and eventually planned for it.

But the report does show that when MacArthur was informed of the results of the Yalta meeting, after it was over he said he considered it "essential" that Russia be brought in before the United States tried to invade Japan and that invasion was the only way Japan could be licked.

MacArthur can argue, as he did in his April 3 statement this year, that in any recommendations he made about Russia's participation in the war after Yalta he was only acting in accordance with the decisions taken there.

HOLD PEDDLERS IN DOPE RING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In a long, drawn out session of Police Court last night, 101 persons were held in ball for the grand jury for narcotics violations.

They were among the 116 persons police rounded up yesterday in a series of raids aimed at wiping out traffic in narcotics.

Eight of those arrested were charged. The remaining seven were held for action of the U.S. Commissioner.

After the raids, Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons announced that a rookie policeman was suspended after a charge was made that the new cop had tipped off some narcotics peddlers that they were being investigated by undercover agents.

Robert Hackett, 25, a member of the force since May 16, is the suspended policeman. Gibbons said Hackett is reported to have disclosed the identity of some of the investigators to dope peddlers he had known in his own home neighborhood before joining the force.

CITES WAY TO CUT GRID COSTS

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Bud Dudley, Villanova's modern design athletic director, says that if coaches had more faith in human nature, officials' colleges could cut their gridiron expenses.

Dudley, who started the college world by selling tickets to Villanova games, to chain stores to give away to students, suggests that traveling teams dispense with the custom of taking along their own officials.

"The way we feel about it," says Dudley, "is that all accredited officials are competent, honest men. Football rules are the same and we interpret the same in all sections of the country. Therefore it is silly to import officials from distant points."

Dudley, of course, is talking about the common practice of using two officials from the home area and two from the region of the visiting team in intercollegiate competition. For example, two Atlantic Coast Conference officials are coming up to join two eastern arbiters for the North Carolina State-Villanova game here Saturday.

Dudley said:

Officials for our season opener with Baylor cost us $1,100. Each official is paid $100 plus expenses. We had to pay the expenses of two of them who came all the way up from Texas, as well as the expenses of two local officials.

Stock Auctioneer Learns Hard Way

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—One of New Mexico's top ranchmen so trapped in his own business recently, Parley Jensen, New Mexico Stockman Magazine editor and a recognized ring expert in cattle auctions, took the time to a furniture auction. He lost on his first bid and told the Mrs. he would go no higher on the next than $20. The bidding shot quickly to $20. It kept rising. Jensen finally got the furniture for $24. He discovered later he had been bidding against his wife who figured he had stopped at $20 and decided on her own to go higher.

Here And There

governmental decree forces men and women into work that is repugnant to them. And because people do work that they like, they strive to excel, and so become competitive and more productive.

"It is also significant that what our people freely produce is not only huge in quantity but it is widely distributed to bring rising standards of living. Forced labor can, of course, be made to produce some conspicuous results. The world is dotted with monuments of past despots, and some new ones are being built today. But admiration of such feats should not submerge pity for the human misery which they cost. Our duty and opportunity is to offer the world the example of an economy which, as a matter of free choice, produces vastly and distributes fairly."

"We have power out of productivity; a part is set aside to make sure that the treasure house of freedom will not be pillaged. We do not like to divert human effort to nonproductive purposes, and it requires a strong sense of duty to apply, as we are doing, more than a tenth of all we produce to national defense. Our government is striving to bring about conditions which might safely enable us to reduce this nonproductive diversion."

"We do not, however, intend to be reckless in this respect. We had to build hastily the military establishment we needed in World War I, and then we scrapped it. Then, with the coming of World War II, we built up what became the world's military establishment; and again we scrapped it. Then, when the Korean war came, we had to build the third time. This time we do not propose to disarm ourselves unless we can be sure that others are doing the same."

"We have principles. Our productivity and our power do not rattle haphazardly about the world. They are harnessed to basic moral principles. There is a school of thought which claims that morality and foreign policy do not mix. That never has been, is not, and I pray never will be, the American ideal. Diplomacy which is divorced from morality also divorces the government from the people. Our people can understand, and will support, policies which can be explained and understood in moral terms. But policies based on carefully calculated expediency could never be explained."

"As an example of the principles to which we adhere, I cite the principle that military force should not be used aggressively to achieve national goals. Recently, we were gravely provoked by the Chinese Communists, who retained and imprisoned 15 of our flyers in violation of the Korean armistice agreement. We had the power to take prompt and overwhelming reprisals. We did not do so, but relied upon the United Nations to bring moral pressures into play. Now all 15 are free and home. We hope that the Chinese Communists will accept for themselves this 'renunciation of force' principle. Until now, they have largely lived by the sword. But perhaps they are now beginning to see that persistence in the use of force will

"Some other nations would, at times, prefer it if the United States would deviate from basic principles to help them meet their immediate problems. If we do not do so, they may temporarily turn away. But underneath such surface dissatisfactions lies, I feel, a sense of respect for the United States because we at least try to live by principle. Certainly that is essential to our own sense of self-respect."

"We have partnership. Modern developments in the field of communications have drawn nations physically together so that, as never before, what concerns one concerns many. It was always wrong to operate in the basis of 'each for himself and the devil take the hindmost.' Now it is also stupid. The United States now has partnership association for security with 44 nations. The result is to create a measure of security which no one, not even the strongest, could achieve on a purely national basis."

"The Soviet rulers profess to regard these developments as dangerous. They advocate—for others—what they call 'neutrality.' By this they mean that each nation should have the weakness which is inevitable when each depends on itself alone. But the Soviet rulers practice, for themselves, something very different from what they thus preach to others. They have forged a vast domain. The Soviet bloc represents an amalgamation of about 900 million people normally constituting more than 20 distinct national groups. (In view of this) the United States does not believe in practicing neutrality. Barring exceptional cases, neutrality today is an obsolete conception. It is like asking each community to forgo a police force and to leave it to each citizen to defend his own home with his own gun."

"We have peace. Peace is the goal which we devoutly seek. But let us never forget that the peace we now have, and the peace which we would preserve, is not peace at any price. It is peace with freedom, purchased by those who were willing to fight and die. Last winter, when aggression threatened in the Formosa area, the Congress unitedly authorized the President to use the armed forces of the United States for the defense of our vital interests and of our ally in that area. I believe that this action contributed indispensably to the preservation of peace. Two years ago I said: 'If events are likely which will in fact lead us to fight, let us make clear our intention in advance; then we shall probably not have to fight.' The action of the Congress was an application of that doctrine."

Then John Foster Dulles set forth what is obviously the Eisenhower Administration's highest hope for results from its foreign policy. Said he: "There are some skeptics who doubt that change can be brought about peacefully. History does not justify this conclusion. The recent liberation of Austria came about primarily because world opinion insistently demanded it as a step which represented elemental justice. In the same way world opinion will act as a compulsion on the Soviet Union to relax its grip upon East Germany and to permit the unification of

Germany. Also, I believe that world opinion will compel the restoration of national independence to the captive states of Eastern Europe. Independence must also come to those dependent countries whose people desire independence and are capable of sustaining it. We can, and indeed we must, look forward to an era of peaceful change. We do not seek other than peace, but also, we do not seek a peace other than one which will be curative and creative."

UNRECOGNIZED, POISON IVY IS ALWAYS TOXIC

Lurking along the garden path, the woodland walk or the picnic site is an insidious growth—poison ivy. It's principal danger is to the unwary.

If you don't recognize the shiny, bright green leaves, you can mistake it for a pleasant looking, harmless weed. And if you get your hands into it, or lie down in the area—you've got trouble.

Many don't recognize the quiet danger in the perennial poison ivy. It can incapacitate the strongest of men, physically and, in some cases, dangerously.

There's many an office, during the summer, which gets the call that Lew or Joan won't be in to work on Monday because of a dose of poison ivy. Sometimes Monday stretches into Wednesday or Thursday or later.

One friend—a novice gardener—found he was carefully cultivating poison ivy among his petunias. He found it out after the widespread plant had laid him low for a few days.

Irregular Leaf

First, you've got to recognize it: Each leaf a Rutgers University bulletin admonishes, consists of three leaflets two to four inches long. They are irregular and notched along the margin. Rutgers should know—New Jersey is full of poison ivy and the situation gets worse each year.

The woody perennial sometimes grows as a low bush, a shrub or a vine. It climbs on fences, trees, hedges—anything that grows. It's very common on heavy, clay soils. It is found in parks and even playgrounds. Apple orchards are a prime place for its growth.

Let It Be

If you are not sure and something looks like poison ivy to you, bear in mind an ancient saying: "Leaflets three, let it be."

"Better to be safe than sorry."

The plant is toxic all seasons of the year. The oil substance is found in the leaves, flowers, berries, bark, stems and roots. If you burn it—the smoke can cause it to you. Some persons are so allergic to it, that they just have to walk by a patch of poison ivy and it produces the disconcerting effects.

The preventative measure to poisoning is to avoid the plant.

Yellow Soap

But if you've been in contact with it—or "prink" you have—the first thing to do on returning home is to wash with a soap—we use any strong yellow soap. If you do it right away the chances are you'll wash out the poison oil.

According to the U. S. Public Health Service if you get the inflammation, cleanse the area with a gauze pad soaked in alcohol, rub vigorously to break the blisters and apply a 10 per cent solution of tannic acid in water. Apply tannic acid to a dressing and leave it on for an hour or so. Repeat every six hours. Break new blisters as they form. This should halt the itching in a day or two and clear it up in a week.

These hints from Dale E. Wolf and Gilbert H. Ahlgren of Rutgers, will help, plus their suggestion to use a fresh solution of one five-grain tablet of potassium permanganate dissolved in a quart of water, applied every hour or two. But don't get excited when the solution turns brown on the skin.

They also say a calamine lotion with about two per cent phenol added in used. Many drug stores sell prepared poison ivy lotions and salves.

Poison ivy can be controlled in the garden in many ways. With chemicals, a ammonium sulphate used at a pound to a gallon of water as a spray—from June till mid-August—should destroy it in two weeks. A second treatment is needed for heavy growth.

Then there is 2,4-D, sometimes combined with 2,4,5-T, or Borax spread as a powder on the soil, to fight the pesky plant. But with all of these—be sure you do not use them near your valuable trees or shrubs—nor should you apply when it is windy.

Frankly, the way we get rid of the stuff around our place is to dig it out. We use heavy, nonporous gloves in the process and always wash off all tools afterward; also the gloves and cover clothing.

Remember too, dogs and other pets running through poison ivy can transmit the oil to you if you are sensitive to it. Some lucky people are resistant to the poisoning—they are fortunate.

So: recognize poison ivy and stay away from it. If you are in doubt, stay away from the plant. If you get the poisoning—work on it right away. And if it is a real tough dose—

Your doctor is your best friend.

Here And There

governmental decree forces men and women into work that is repugnant to them. And because people do work that they like, they strive to excel, and so become competitive and more productive.

"It is also significant that what our people freely produce is not only large in quantity but it is widely distributed to bring rising standards of living. Forced labor can, of course, be made to produce some conspicuous results. The world is dotted with monuments of past despotisms, and some new ones are being built today. But admiration of such feats should not submerge pity for the human misery which they cost. Our duty and opportunity is to offer the world the example of an economy which, as a matter of free choice, produces vastly and distributes fairly."

"We have power out of productivity; a part is set aside to make sure that the treasure house of freedom will not be pillaged. We do not like to divert human effort to nonproductive purposes, and it requires a strong sense of duty to apply, as we are doing, more than a tenth of all we produce to national defense. Our government is striving to bring about conditions which might safely enable us to reduce this nonproductive diversion."

"We do not, however, intend to be reckless in this respect. We had to build hastily the military establishment we needed in World War I; and then we scrapped it. Then, with the coming of World War II, we built up what became the world's military establishment; and again we scrapped it. Then, when the Korean war came, we had to build the third time. This time we do not propose to disarm ourselves unless we can be sure that others are doing the same."

"We have principles. Our productivity and our power do not rattle haphazardly about the world. They are harnessed to basic moral principles. There is a school of thought which claims that morality and foreign policy do not mix. That never has been, is not, and I pray never will be, the American ideal. Diplomacy which is divorced from morality also divorces the government from the people. Our people can understand, and will support, policies which can be explained and understood in moral terms. But policies based on carefully calculated expediency could never be explained."

"As an example of the principles to which we adhere, I cite the principle that military force should not be used aggressively to achieve national goals. Recently, we were gravely provoked by the Chinese Communists, who retained and imprisoned 15 of our flyers in violation of the Korean armistice agreement. We had the power to take prompt and overwhelming reprisals. We did not do so, but relied upon the United Nations to bring moral pressures into play. Now all 15 are free and home. We hope that the Chinese Communists will accept for themselves this 'renunciation of force' principle. Until now, they have largely lived by the sword. But perhaps they are now beginning to see that persistence in the use of force will

"Some other nations would, at times, prefer it if the United States would deviate from basic principles to help them meet their immediate problems. If we do not do so, they may temporarily turn away. But underneath such surface disaffections lies, I feel, a sense of respect for the United States because we at least try to live by principle. Certainly that is essential to our own sense of self-respect."

"We have partnership. Modern developments in the field of communications have drawn nations physically together so that, as never before, what concerns one concerns many. It was always wrong to operate in the basis of 'each for himself and the devil take the hindmost.' Now it is also stupid. The United States now has partnership association for security with 44 nations. The result is to create a measure of security which no one, not even the strongest, could achieve on a purely national basis."

"The Soviet rulers profess to regard these developments as dangerous. They advocate—for others—what they call 'neutrality.' By this they mean that each nation should have the weakness which is inevitable when each depends on itself alone. But the Soviet rulers practice, for themselves, something very different from what they thus preach to others. They have forged a vast domain. The Soviet bloc represents an amalgamation of about 900 million people normally constituting more than 20 distinct national groups. (In view of this) the United States does not believe in practicing neutrality. Barring exceptional cases, neutrality today is an obsolete conception. It is like asking each community to forgo a police force and to leave it to each citizen to defend his own home with his own gun."

"We have peace. Peace is the goal which we devoutly seek. But let us never forget that the peace we now have, and the peace which we would preserve, is not peace at any price. It is peace with freedom, purchased by those who were willing to fight and die. Last winter, when aggression threatened in the Panama area, the Congress unitedly authorized the President to use the armed forces of the United States for the defense of our vital interests and of our ally in that area. I believe that this action contributed indispensably to the preservation of peace. Two years ago I said: 'If events are likely which will in fact lead us to fight, let us make clear our intention in advance; then we shall probably not have to fight.' The action of the Congress was an application of that doctrine."

Then John Foster Dulles set forth what is obviously the Eisenhower Administration's highest hope for results from its foreign policy. Said he: "There are some skeptics who doubt that change can be brought about peacefully. History does not justify this conclusion. The recent liberation of Austria came about primarily because world opinion insistently demanded it as a step which represented elemental justice. In the same way world opinion will act as a compulsion on the Soviet Union to relax its grip upon East Germany and to permit the unification of

Germany. Also, I believe that world opinion will compel the restoration of national independence to the captive states of Eastern Europe. Independence must also come to those dependent countries whose people desire independence and are capable of sustaining it. We can, and indeed we must, look forward to an era of peaceful change. We do not seek other than peace, but also, we do not

Announcing the Fabulous '56 Pontiac

Introducing A BIG AND VITAL
GENERAL MOTORS
"AUTOMOTIVE FIRST!"

A new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic—coupled with Pontiac's 227-H.P. Strato-Streak V-8—results in performance so new and dramatic it must be experienced to be believed!

With all that's newest in glamour—and all that's greatest in "go"—the fabulous '56 Pontiac, now on display, awaits your hands on the wheel.

And when you drive it, you will get the biggest thrill in all your motoring experience—because this car is really loaded! The big and vital General Motors "First", which heads its long list of look-ahead features, couples the two most advanced high-performance developments in the industry: 1. An all-new, big-bore Strato-Streak V-8 engine that puts 227 blazing horse power at your toe-tip.

2. A completely new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic, that delivers this terrific "go" with a smooth surge of power at any speed.

You now sweep from take-off to top performance with the ease of a sailplane. You slow down for traffic, speed up for passing, or gun for a high limit with the changing pressure of your toe on the accelerator the only sign of effort.

You may have had it smooth before—but never like this! It literally must be experienced to be believed.

That's plenty—but there's much more to make this a date to be long remembered.

There's smart, new beauty and luxury for America's most distinctive car. There's the safety of big brakes and road-hugging length... the security of a smooth new ride and sure-footed cornering.

There are many, many other things which mark this beauty as the glamorous pattern for tomorrow's cars. But come in and see for yourself. Take a long look at the six luxurious new Four-door and Two-door Catalina hardtops. Sample the results of its fabulous General Motors "First".

Sure as you enjoy thrilling action, here's your next car!

FINAL RETURNS ON SALES TAX ARE DUE TODAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Today is the deadline for retailers to turn in final sales tax collections.

Quarterly returns from the 1 per cent levy which expired Aug. 31 must be filed by tonight to avoid penalties, said Joseph C. Snyder, director of the state Sales Tax Bureau.

"We estimate these final returns will bring in about 5 or 6 million dollars," he told a newsman. "That would make the two-year total about 125 millions."

Snyder said annual returns from the sales levy must be submitted by the end of the month.

Auditing crews, both in Harrisburg and out in the field, will continue to check retailers' books to make certain proper returns are made.

Under a 1955 law, the bureau has two years in which to assess delinquent retailers for failure to make proper returns.

Three Month Work

The Sales Tax Bureau, slowly being reduced in size, will continue to operate at relatively large strength for three months until all the returns are processed, Snyder said.

Asked if there was any substantial tax loss because of big purchases delayed until after expiration of the sales levy, Snyder said: "The amount would be uncertain although these delays in making purchases were rather widespread."

IKE'S ILLNESS HELPS TO CURB "INFLATION"

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The President's illness appears to be accomplishing what the money managers first started out to do with tight money—nip over confidence and put a brake on inflation.

Confidence seems unshaken. But as the stock market shows, caution has returned. There are fewer people today who believe that the only way business, stock prices, and the economy can go is up.

Many businessmen, therefore, now believe that the money managers will take few if any further steps in tightening credit. Interest rates are still creeping higher as the result of past steps by Federal Reserve and government mortgage and home building agencies. And there is little thought of a shift to easy money.

But money managers seem to think these past steps plus the president's illness have halted over confidence, speculation and incipient inflation that could lead to boom and bust.

Building Feels Pinch

Home building felt the pinch first. Contractors say mortgages are hard to come by these days and housing starts are decreasing.

Tighter money also has hit businessmen seeking bank loans. Banks have just hiked their interest rate again.

But so far Federal Reserve hasn't raised its rate, and businessmen see this as a sign that further tightening of money is not thought necessary now.

All along Federal Reserve has made clear it wasn't making money dear just for the sake of restraining business. It promised to keep credit easy enough for ordinary business needs. But it was alarmed at the signs of over confidence and speculation which threatened a runaway boom.

NEW ANTIPROTON NOW REPLACES ATOM SPLITTING

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Atomic science took another big step forward today with the announcement of the discovery of a particle which annihilates the basic unit of all matter.

The discovery was made in experiments utilizing the University of California's biggest atom smasher, the bevatron. It was announced jointly Tuesday night by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence, famed nuclear scientist, and the Atomic Energy Commission, which financed the $45-million-dollar machine.

The new particle, sought for a generation by researchers, is the antiproton. Although it is a powerful annihilator of matter, it constitutes no threat as a super-weapon, no new hazard to the world.

Opens New Vistas
Instead, it opens up the way for exciting new discoveries about the nature of matter. Conceivably some of these may lead to great new practical achievements of the future.

Its immediate value, said Prof. Lawrence, is that it clears up some of the uncertainties in the theory of nuclear structure. In this respect, he added, it is comparable to the filling in of a key word in a crossword puzzle—it permits the operator to go ahead.

In Washington, a nuclear physicist said discovery of the antiproton increases the prospects of releasing—in controlled fashion—vastly greater energy from the atom than now is possible by the fission process.

The physicist, not associated with the Atomic Energy Commission, said the discovery improves the chances of tapping energy from the nuclear heart of the atom by an "annihilation process" rather than by fission or "atom splitting."

UNION, COMPANY NEGOTIATE TO SETTLE STRIKE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Union and company officials intensified efforts Wednesday to settle a strike which has idled some 54,000 Westinghouse Electric Corp. employees.

Company negotiators stated a meeting with bargainers for the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, which represents about 44,000 strikers.

Since the CIO-IUE called the strike at midnight Sunday, about 10,000 engineers and supervisory personnel also have been idled.

A 2½-hour negotiating session Tuesday brought no reported progress. The dispute centers on wages, length of contract and company time studies. CIO-IUE members now average $2.10 an hour.

Turn Away Supervisors
CIO-IUE pickets turned away supervisory personnel at the big East Pittsburgh works Tuesday. A company spokesman termed the picketing illegal, and the union would neither confirm nor deny that such picketing would take place at the 29 other plants involved in the dispute.

NO LAUGHS FOR LOU—Screen comedian Lou Costello blows horn in try for laughs from his grandson, Lou Costello Cardinet, 1½, at party in Palm Springs, Calif.

Meanwhile, 6,000 members of the United Electrical Workers (under the fifth day at the company's

Lester plant, near Philadelphia, in a separate strike

Talks between the company and UE bargainers on a national contract also were scheduled Wednesday. The union has about 13,000 members in company plants.

Westinghouse offered both unions a five-year contract which it said provided 23½ cents more an hour over that period. Both rejected that offer. The CIO-IUE seeks a one-year contract providing for a 15 cent hourly hike. The UE struck the Lester plant over a proposal to put 2,000 incentive workers on a hourly basis and to adjust the rates of others.

Musician's Degree Is Earned Hard Way

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Ben W. Rounds earned a master's degree in music theory the hard way—while holding two jobs that had nothing to do with music.

The 42-year-old musician is a mail clerk at the capitol and drives a cab at night.

He earned the degree at the University of Pennsylvania by studying part-time for six years and writing a 100-page thesis on Johann Sebastian Bach.

FINAL RETURNS ON SALES TAX ARE DUE TODAY

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Today is the deadline for retailers to turn in final sales tax collections. Quarterly returns from the 1 percent levy which expired Aug. 31 must be filed by tonight to avoid penalties, said Joseph C. Snyder, director of the state Sales Tax Bureau.

"We estimate these final returns will bring in about 5 or 6 million dollars," he told a newsman. "That would make the two-year total about 125 millions."

Snyder said annual returns from the sales levy must be submitted by the end of the month.

Auditing crews both in Harrisburg and out in the field will continue to check retailers' books to make certain proper returns are made.

Under a 1955 law the bureau has two years in which to assess delinquent retailers for failure to make proper returns.

Three Month Work

The Sales Tax Bureau, slowly being reduced in size, will continue to operate at a relatively large strength for three months until all the returns are processed. Snyder said.

Asked if there was any substantial tax loss because of purchases delayed until after expiration of the sales levy, Snyder said, "The amount would be uncertain, although these delays in making purchases were rather widespread."

IKE'S ILLNESS HELPS TO CURB "INFLATION"

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, P.—The President's illness appears to be accomplishing what the money managers first started out to do with their money—up over confidence and put a brake on inflation.

Confidence seems unshaken. But the stock market shows caution has been returned. There are fewer people today who believe that the only way business stock prices and the economy can go is up.

Many businessmen therefore now believe that the money managers will take few if any further steps in tightening credit. Interest rates are still creeping higher as the result of past steps by Federal Reserve and government mortgage and home building agencies. And there is little thought of a shift to easy money.

But money managers seem to think these past steps plus the president's illness have halted over confidence, speculation and inflation that could lead to boom and bust.

Building Feels Pinch

Home building felt the pinch first. Contractors say mortgages are hard to come by these days and housing starts are decreasing. Tighter money also has hit businessmen seeking bank loans. Banks have just hiked their interest rate again.

But so far Federal Reserve hasn't raised its rate, and businessmen see this as a sign that further tightening of money is not thought necessary now.

All along Federal Reserve has made clear it wasn't making money dear just for the sake of restraining business. It promised to keep credit easy enough for ordinary business needs. But it was alarmed at the signs of over confidence and speculation which threatened a runaway boom.

MUSIC MAKERS GET FIDDLES BY GUARNERIUS

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK—A viola and a violin, the handiwork of the founder of the Guarneri fiddle-making family, Andreas, and of his even more famous nephew, Joseph Guarnerius del Gesù, have just come into the possession of distinguished music-makers.

"It was just the Italian instrument I had been dreaming of for over 20 years," William Primrose writes of his 1694 Andreas Guarnerius viola.

"I have wanted it all my life," declared Zlatko Balokovic at a demonstration here of the 1735 King violin made by Joseph Guarnerius.

Instruments Scarce

If they are two happy men, they have reason to be; master violins and violas get scarcer and scarcer all the time.

Balokovic, born in Zagreb, has played with most of the great orchestras in this country and abroad. Besides the King, bought from William Hill of London, he now owns another Guarnerius, the Wilton, and two by Stradivarius, Swan Song and Sol.

Violinists are luckier than violinists. There are scores of old violins, by Stradivarius, Amati, Guarnerius, but the number of old violas from the same illustrious shops is strictly limited. However many were made by Andreas, for example, only four are known to survive today, the one just brought by Primrose from Rembert Wuriltzer, of New York; one owned in Boston; one in New Haven, and the other in Italy.

Knowledge Sketchy

Wuriltzer says, "We don't know how many violins and violas were made by the great Stradivarius Amati, the members of the Guarnerius family, the Brescians; they don't keep production records. But it is likely that from 40 to 50 percent of their instruments have been lost either in fires or by some other accidents. Or they have worn out."

Primrose was out of town when he bought his new-old Guarnerius. But he remembered that he had once told me of a modern instrument he had found by a Philadelphia maker, and he wrote me, to straighten it all out:

"I have not reneged on my earlier convictions regarding the qualities of my new instrument. Rather does it bear out what I then contended, that, so far as violas are concerned, to come by one of the classic instruments suitable to our present-day needs and conditions is a very difficult affair, indeed. However, I feel that, in this particular instrument, my desires are fulfilled. It has all the beauty of sound one associates with Stradivarius and Guarnerius fiddles—all allied to a rather unusual power and penetrating quality.

"The instrument itself, which is mentioned in Hill's famous book (William Hill, 'The Violin-Makers of the Guarneri Family,' 1931) on the Guarnerius family, has never been played on. At least, very little, as all the little signs one associates with usage are absent, such as the worn appearance of the edge of the shoulder, the little nicks in the 'C' caused by occasional collisions with the frog of the bow, etc.

"Moreover, its history from 1872 is easily checked—Some weeks ago it again came into the market and was bought by Rembert Wuriltzer, who immediately contacted me—A rather unusual thing then occurred. I tried it out in his shop one morning and made the rather (apparently) foolhardy decision to use it in concert that same evening. It was a great deal to ask from any instrument that has, probably, never been played on seriously. Despite this, and despite the fact that I, myself, could not, in any degree, claim to be acquainted with the viola, it made such a good impression and answered to all my demands so that I, more or less, decided then to acquire it."

Like the viola, the violin has not been in the hands of a professional before.

TAKE CARE

Falls often are fatal to people over 65, according to the National Safety Council. They advise having well-lighted stairways with continuous handrails, keeping children's toys off floor or lawn except in the play area, and not leaving garden tools where they will be trip-hazards. Older people with poor eyesight are likely to trip on scatter rugs or grass rugs, too.

INDIAN EXPERT BUILDS WICKIUP FOR SMALL FRY

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Two-year-old Ian Bittle of Norman and his neighborhood pals have an authentic setting for their games of cowboys and Indians.

Ian's father, William E. Bittle, hit on an idea for an inexpensive playhouse for the neighborhood kids—an Indian wickiup (that's a grass hut to you palefaces).

Bittle, chairman of the University of Oklahoma anthropology department, modeled the playhouse after the homes used in years past by the Chiricahua segment of the Apache Indian tribe.

No Cost

The cost was zero, if you don't count Bittle's 12 hours of labor. The hut is made of long-stemmed Johnson grass, held together by a double, circular framework of stripped willows, tied with willow bark. White man's tools, such as nails or wire, were scorned.

The hut, measuring six feet in diameter and five feet in height, is on a slightly smaller scale than those used by the Indians, but it will accommodate Ian and his three young friends next door.

The neighbor kids, aged 6, 4 and 2.

belong to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scheffer. The two families combined their backyards to make a community playground. The wickiup is the latest addition to other equipment, including a gym set, swing, slide and sand box.

Made Hurriedly

Bittle, an authority on Indian life, pointed out that Ian's wickiup was made hurriedly from green grass, which dried, leaving some gaps in the walls. But since fall is here and wild Johnson grass has died, Bittle plans to re-thatch the hut. He said the thick layers of dry grass will make it virtually waterproof—and

DEFER TAKING DEPOSITIONS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Taking of depositions in a damage suit brought by the Sunbury Wire Rope Manufacturing Co. against nine of the nation's largest steel producers was postponed indefinitely Wednesday.

J. Wesley McWilliams, counsel for the wire rope corporation and the Union Wire Rope Corp. of America, two of the defendants, said the deposition taking was set back because of objections of counsel for the Sunbury company.

McWilliams said a hearing on the question of whether the depositions may be taken will be held Nov. 7 before U. S. District Court Judge Allan J. Grim.

Henry W. Lark, president of the Sunbury firm, and Norman Melville, the company's sales manager, were to have given the depositions.

The suit was filed in the U. S. District Court here May 28, 1954. It charges the nine companies with conspiring to destroy Sunbury Wire Rope and its business.

Other defendants include U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Detroit Steel Corp., John A. Roebling's Sons Corp. and Universal Wire Products, Inc.

Sunbury said it was forced to suspend operations in March, 1954, and faced a total loss of assets. The company filed a petition in federal court here last January asking approval of a plan of reorganization.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Yugoslavia Wednesday sent a note to all members of the U. N. General Assembly formally announcing it was running as a "compromise" candidate against the Philippines for a seat on the Security Council. The note was the first active step the Yugoslav delegation had taken to win the seat, although it received 28 votes to 29 for the Philippines last Friday after the Soviet bloc dropped Poland as a candidate.

Both the Soviet bloc and the British Commonwealth countries are supporting Yugoslavia, while the United States still stands firmly behind the Philippines in what appeared to be a losing fight.

LONDON (AP)—Russia, which granted Communist East Germany sovereignty Sept. 29, will continue to control "for the present" military traffic between West Germany and West Berlin.

A note to this effect, broadcast by the Moscow radio, has been sent to the Western Big Three. It replied to a U. S.-British-French note of Oct. 3 warning Russia it would still be held responsible for keeping isolated Berlin free and open to the West.

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman, often a guest performer on radio and television, will have the first regular program of her own starting next month.

The National Broadcasting Co. announced Tuesday the daughter of the former President will be hostess on a day radio program called Weekday. It is scheduled to start Nov. 7 and will run Monday through Friday.

MUSIC MAKERS GET FIDDLES BY GUARNERIUS

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK—A viola and a violin, the handiwork of the founder of the Guarnerius fiddle-making family, Andreas, and of his even more famous nephew, Joseph Guarnerius del Gesù, have just come into the possession of distinguished music-makers.

"It was just the Italian instrument I had been dreaming of for over 20 years," William Primrose writes of his 1694 Andreas Guarnerius viola.

"I have wanted it all my life," declared Zlatko Balokovic at a demonstration here of the 1735 King violin made by Joseph Guarnerius.

If they are two happy men, they have reason to be; master violins and violas get scarcer and scarcer all the time.

Balokovic, born in Zagreb, has played with most of the great orchestras in this country and abroad. Besides the King, bought from William Hill of London, he now owns another Guarnerius, the Wilton, and two by Stradivarius, Swan Song and Soli.

Violinists are luckier than violists. There are scores of old violins, by Stradivarius, Amati, Guarnerius, but the number of old violas from the same illustrious shops is strictly limited. However many were made by Andreas, for example, only four are known to survive today, the one just brought by Primrose from Rembert Wurliitzer, of New York; one owned in Boston; one in New Haven, and the other in Italy.

Knowledge Sketchy
Wurliitzer says, "We don't know how many violins and violas were made by the great Stradivarius Amati, the members of the Guarnerius family, the Breslans; they didn't keep production records. But it is likely that from 40 to 50 per cent of their instruments have been lost either in fires or by some other accidents. Or they have worn out."

Primrose was out of town when he bought his new-old Guarnerius. But he remembered that he had once told me of a modern instrument he had found by a Philadelphia maker, and he wrote me, to straighten it all out:

"I have not reneged on my earlier convictions regarding the qualities of my new instrument. Rather does it bear out what I then contended, that, so far as violas are concerned, to come by one of the classic instruments suitable to our present-day needs and conditions is a very difficult affair. Indeed, however, I feel that, in this particular instrument, my desires are fulfilled. It has all the beauty of sound one associates with Stradivarius and Guarnerius fiddles — allied to a rather unusual power and penetrating quality.

"The instrument itself, which is mentioned in Hill's famous book (William Hill's 'Violin-Makers of the Guarneri Family' 1931), on the Guarnerius family, has never been played on. At least very little as all the little signs one associates with usage are absent such as the worn appearance of the edge of the shoulder, the little nicks in the 'C' caused by occasional collisions with the frog of the bow, etc.

"Moreover, its history from 1872 is easily checked — some years ago it came into the market and was bought by Rembert Wurliitzer, who immediately contacted me — a rather unusual thing then occurred. I tried it out in his shop one morning and made the rather (apparently) foolhardy decision to use it in concert that same evening. It was a great deal to ask from any instrument that has probably never been played on seriously. Despite this and despite the fact that I myself could not in any degree claim to be acquainted with the viola, it made such a good impression and answered to all my demands so that I, more or less decided to acquire it."

Like the viola, the violin has not been in the hands of a professional before.

TAKE CARE
Falls often are fatal to people over 65, according to the National Safety Council. They advise having well-lighted stairways with continuous handrails, keeping children's toys off floor or lawn except in the play area, and not leaving garden tools where they will be trip-hazards. Older people with poor eyesight are likely to trip on scatter rugs or grass rugs, too.

INDIAN EXPERT BUILDS WICKIUP FOR SMALL FRY

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Two-year-old Ian Bittle of Norman and his neighborhood pals have an authentic setting for their games of cowboys and Indians.

In a father William F. Bittle built on an idea for an inexpensive playhouse for the neighborhood kids — an Indian wickiup (that's a grass hut to you palefaces).

Bittle, chairman of the University of Oklahoma anthropology department, modeled the playhouse after the homes used in years past by the Chiricahua segment of the Apache Indian tribe.

No Cost
The cost was zero if you don't count Bittle's 12 hours of labor. The hut is made of long-stemmed Johnson grass, held together by a double circular framework of stripped willows, bed with willow bark. White man's tools such as nails or wire were scorned.

The hut, measuring six feet in diameter and five feet in height, is on a slight, small scale that those used by the Indians but it accommodates 10 and 15 three young friends next door.

The neighbor kids, aged 6, 4 and 2.

belong to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scheffer. The two families combined their backyards to make a community playground. The wickiup is the latest addition to other equipment, including a gym set, swing, slide and sand box.

Made Hurriedly
Bittle, an authority on Indian life, pointed out that Ian's wickiup was made hurriedly from green grass, which dried, leaving some gaps in the wall. But since fall is here and wild Johnson grass has died, Bittle plans to re-thatch the hut. He said the three layers of dry grass will make it virtually waterproof — and

'56 Chevrolet sets new Pikes Peak record in top-secret test!

Not long ago a hush hush, camouflaged '56 Chevrolet scorched the nerve-breaking road up Colorado's Pikes Peak for a new NASCAR* certified record — the first time that old King of the Mountains has seen a new official stock car record in years! And what a road! 170 chilling turns and no guardrail! It's the first and only time a new model ever proved itself such a great road car before its introduction! The '56 Chevrolet showed the kind of performance that makes driving safer and more fun. So wait for the car that beat the King of the Mountains!

Leader Expounds On State Existence In Tax Structure

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gov. Leader said Wednesday it is "now admitted everywhere in both parties" that the state cannot exist within its old tax structure.

"In all of this wrangling we have finally reached one significant point of community consent: it is now admitted everywhere in both parties, on all sides, that the state cannot live within its old tax structure," he declared.

In a speech prepared for a luncheon at the annual convention of the state Chamber of Commerce the governor added that everyone recognizes "all of us must carry some part of the burden of government in Pennsylvania."

Discuss Classified Income Tax

The governor told the luncheon group that he is still waiting for Republicans to come up with a substitute to his proposed classified income tax, killed in the GOP-controlled Senate.

"It has taken six months to bring them (opponents of the income tax) to the point where they will sit down and see for themselves what those (state) needs are," the governor continued.

The state Chamber opposed the classified income tax plan and Leader said the organization has emphasized time and time again that the old tax structure is inadequate.

"You have made many converts, including the governor. And so, perhaps, the governor may try to convert you."

He added he wanted and needed the chamber's help in the coming three years.

In another address, a Weirton Steel Co. executive said the "guaranteed annual wage" is a false label being used in an effort to increase unemployment compensation benefits.

George T. Fonda, vice president in charge of industrial relations for the firm, spoke at the opening session.

Fonda said union leaders are

Truckers violating speed laws or otherwise not complying with good driving practices will be reported to their employers, Shipley said.

At a dinner meeting of PMTA members, Shipley discussed the recent truck-train crash in West Newton which took five lives. He said the proposal to prohibit trucks on the steep hill on Rt. 31 where the crash occurred did not solve the problem. Other routes are "equally hazardous," Shipley said.

He added that the matter is still to be worked out with West Newton authorities.

1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika

U.S. MANEUVERS YUGOSLAVIA TO SEAT ON ECOSOC

By TOM HOGG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Yugoslavia and the U.S.-backed Philippines deadlocked again last night in new balloting for a disputed Security Council seat.

But Russia's bid to seat the Belgrade Communists, appeared crippled by an American maneuver which placed the Yugoslavs on another key U.N. council.

When voting resumed in the 60-nation General Assembly, Yugoslavia — backed by both Britain and the Soviet bloc — was strongly favored to win. Interest in the outcome was keen, since a Philippine defeat would deal a heavy blow to the prestige of the Asian nation's all-out U.S. backers.

After three ballots in which neither side got the needed two-thirds majority, it began to look like a standoff. On the ninth and final ballot of the two-day series, the Philippines had 31 votes to Yugoslavia's 27.

U. S. Outsmarts Reds

The picture changed when the United States, over bitter Soviet opposition, pushed through a proposal postponing the Security Council election and switching to balloting for the U. N. Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) and the Trusteeship Council.

On the second ballot, Yugoslavia found herself elected to more than the required margin. No date was set for voting to resume for the Security Council seat.

Jubilant American circles claimed Yugoslavia's election to ECOSOC considerably weakened her chances for the Security Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wantz Jr. visited Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vaughn and family, Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shoemaker, New Jersey; Miss Gertrude Ridinger and nephew, Luther Ridinger, visited Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nett, Knoxville.

The Reformation service will be held in St. Paul's Church, Harney, Sunday, October 30, at 9 a.m.

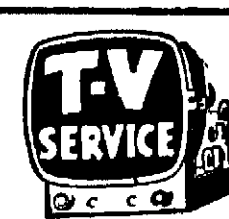

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held last Friday evening in the Lutheran parish Hall with approximately 105 present. A baked ham and fried oyster supper was served by the ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The guest speaker for the evening was Ray Shetter, Biglerville. Merwyn Puss, president of the Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church, also attended. After the banquet a social hour was held.

You can make a delicious coating for chicken you are frying in shallow fat by mixing a quarter cup of flour with a quarter cup of grated Parmesan cheese plus salt, pepper and paprika to taste.

U.S. MANEUVERS YUGOSLAVIA TO SEAT ON ECOSOC

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Yugoslavia and the U.S.-backed Philippines deadlocked again last night in new balloting for a disputed Security Council seat.

But Russia's bid to seat the Belgrade Communists appeared crippled by an American maneuver which placed the Yugoslavs on another key U.N. council.

When voting resumed in the 60-nation General Assembly, Yugoslavia — backed by both Britain and the Soviet bloc — was strongly favored to win. Interest in the outcome was keen, since a Philippine defeat would deal a heavy blow to the prestige of the Asian nation's all-out U.S. backers.

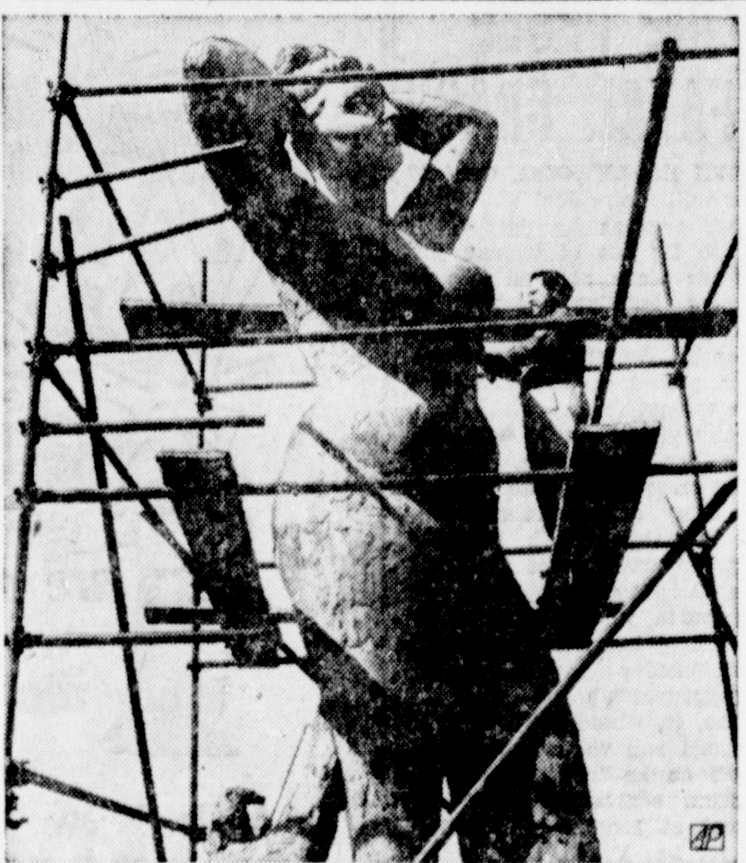

After three ballots in which neither side got the needed two-thirds majority, it began to look like a standoff. On the ninth and final ballot of the two-day series, the Philippines had 31 votes to Yugoslavia's 27.

U. S. Outsmarts Reds

The picture changed when the United States, over bitter Soviet opposition, pushed through a proposal postponing the Security Council election and switching to balloting for the U. N. Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) and the Trusteeship Council.

On the second ballot, Yugoslavia found herself elected to more than the required margin. No date was set for voting to resume for the Security Council seat.

Jubilant American circles claimed Yugoslavia's election to ECOSOC considerably weakened her chances for the Security Council.

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held last Friday evening in the Lutheran parish Hall with approximately 105 present. A baked ham and fried oyster supper was served by the ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The guest speaker for the evening was Ray Shetter, Biglerville. Mervyn Fuss, president of the Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church, also attended. After the banquet a social hour was held.

Leader Expands On State Existence In Tax Structure

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gov. Leader said Wednesday it is "now admitted everywhere in both parties" that the state cannot exist within its old tax structure.

"In all of this wrangling we have finally reached one significant point of community consent: it is now admitted everywhere in both parties, on all sides, that the state cannot live within its old tax structure," he declared.

In a speech prepared for a luncheon at the annual convention of the state Chamber of Commerce the governor added that everyone recognizes "all of us must carry some part of the burden of government in Pennsylvania."

Discuss Classified Income Tax

The governor told the luncheon group that he is still waiting for Republicans to come up with a substitute to his proposed classified income tax, killed in the GOP-controlled Senate.

"It has taken six months to bring them (opponents of the income tax) to the point where they will sit down and see for themselves what those (state) needs are," the governor continued.

The state Chamber opposed the classified income tax plan and Leader said the organization has emphasized time and time again that the old tax structure is inadequate.

"You have made many converts, including the governor. And so, perhaps, the governor may try to convert you."

He added he wanted and needed the chamber's help in the coming three years.

In another address, a Weston Steel Co. executive said the "guaranteed annual wage" is a false label being used in an effort to increase unemployment compensation benefits.

George T. Fonda, vice president in charge of industrial relations for the firm, spoke at the opening session.

Fonda said union leaders are said last night.

Truckers violating speed laws or otherwise not complying with good driving practices will be reported to their employers, Shipley said.

At a dinner meeting of PMTA members, Shipley discussed the recent truck-train crash in West Newton which took five lives. He said the proposal to prohibit trucks on the steep hill on Rt. 31 where the crash occurred did not solve the problem. Other routes are "equally hazardous," Shipley said.

He added that the matter is still to be worked out with West Newton authorities.

KNIGHT PREDICTS GOP VICTORY IN ELECTION RACE

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California says Republicans can win the 1956 presidential election with or without President Eisenhower.

Gov. Knight, one of the nation's key Republicans, made the statement Tuesday night at a news conference preceding an Essex County $50-a-plate fund raising GOP dinner.

Knight, who said he would head California's powerful 70-member delegation to the national GOP convention, said the President, recently stricken by a heart attack, will make "the right decision at the right moment" on whether he would run for re-election.

Will Win, With Or Without
"Republicans can win with or without" President Eisenhower, he said "but it will be such easier to win with him."

He said "it is conceivable that President Eisenhower would run," but added that only his doctors could express a responsible opinion on the subject.

The governor indicated he would

LITTLESTOWN: A covered dish supper preceded the meeting of the Hustlers' Sunday School Class of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church Monday evening in the church social hall with 19 members and two visitors present.

Mrs. William I. Straley, president, presided at the business session. The class decided to help finance renovations in the church study. The group decided to serve a banquet to the IOOF on January 21. Reports were received from Mrs. Glenn S. Kaufman Jr., secretary, and Mrs. George C. DeHoff, treasurer.

Plans were made to serve a banquet to the Adams County Banker's Association on Wednesday, November 16, and the committee were appointed: Kitchen,

"I'm not running for President," he declared.
His state's Republican committee, he said, has instructed him to form the GOP delegation, in which Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) would be included because "they are distinguished Americans."

Mrs. Paul Stonieser, Mrs. Clement A. Sneeringer and Mrs. Ralph A. Staley; dining room, Mrs. Glenn Kaufman, Mrs. William Straley and Mrs. Porter W. Seiwel.

Mrs. George DeHoff, Miss Malva Dutera and Miss Louise Dutera will serve as hostesses at the next meeting on Monday, November 21, 7:30 p.m., in the social hall.

Paul E. Hiltbrich Jr., chief observer of the Littlestown Ground Observer Corps Post, has announced that local spotters, excluding Boy and Girl Scouts, are invited to tour the Baltimore Filter Center on Sunday afternoon. The group will leave at 1 p.m. from the high school building and transportation will be provided. The Boy and Girl Scouts will be taken on a separate tour at a later date.

Dr. Samuel L. Bucke and Paul L. Hollinger will be in charge of the program at the meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club this evening at 7 o'clock in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church.

POLICE PROBE FATAL CRASH

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Was millionaire Joel W. Thorne stunting, or was he desperately trying to fly out of trouble just before his plane plunged into an apartment building, costing his own and three other lives? Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators probed deeper Wednesday for the answer.

A baby whose family was celebrating her christening, an 18-year-old bride and Thorne perished in the fiery crash and explosion which devastated with bomblike fury two apartments of a six-unit building Monday night.

The fourth victim, a 6-year-old boy, died of horrible burns in a hospital Tuesday night. He was one of the carstening party.

Thorne, 40, whose life was filled with speed and violent escapades, took off on an instrument flight plan from nearby Lockheed Air Terminal at 10:08 p.m. Monday, bound for Las Vegas, Nev., where he was maintaining residence. The crash occurred 12 minutes later.

The other dead:
Sheryl Camille Preston, the 2-month old baby, who had been christened only hours before at St. Charles Catholic Church.
